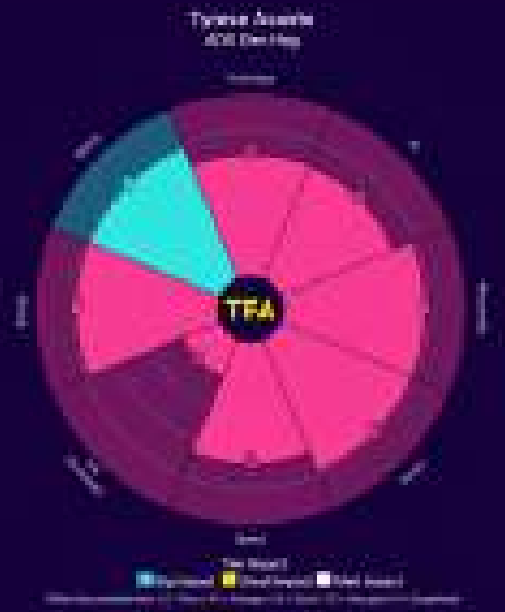
SCOUT REPORT

TYRESE ASANTE

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM



Tyrese Asante is a 20-year-old centre-back who is comfortable on the ball and tactically aware. He shows good ball-playing attributes and attract a good array of passes as well. He is quite tall and visible allowing him to deal with forward passes and runs in behind. He looks a little weak on occasion which is something he needs to work on. With experience and improved physical attributes, he can certainly play at a higher level.

Potential ceiling/top tier: Tier he is playing in, that is, Tier 2.

This calculation is based on rules applied by TFA to the Home Office for players to play in England. There will be slight cases and different interpretations. Our Scouting Body Points system (SBP) is also not Medical and is a guide to assess the likelihood of a player meeting visa criteria, with an initial assessment. SBP or visa are regularly reviewed by the FA and Home Office. Any changes will be incorporated into our calculations when they are announced.

There are no visas in the SBP as here for players to play in Scotland and England under the Footballers and Scottish FA Agreement.

PLAYER PROFILE

Tyrese Asante is 20 years old (09/04/2002) and he is 188cm tall. Tyrese Asante is equally adept at playing with either foot. His jersey number is 2.

His current value according to Transfermarket is €250,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

Tyrese Asante is a Dutch professional footballer who plays as a defender for Eerste Divisie club ADO Den Haag.

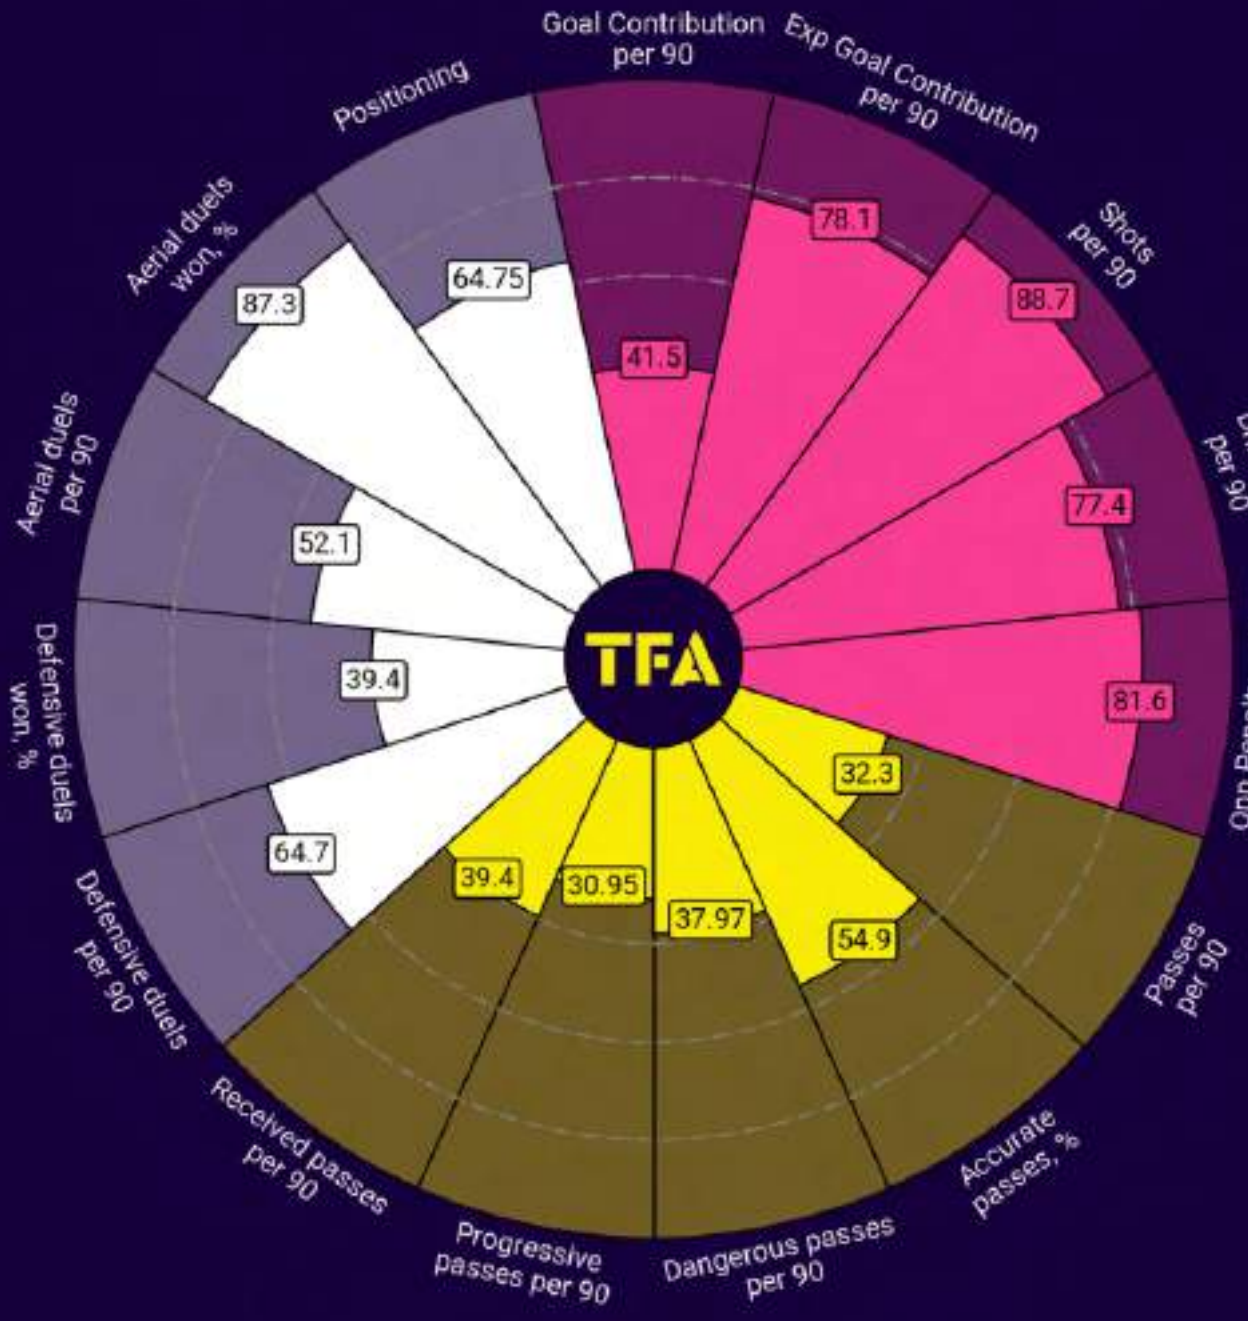
ADO Den Haag | 20-years-old | Season 2022-23



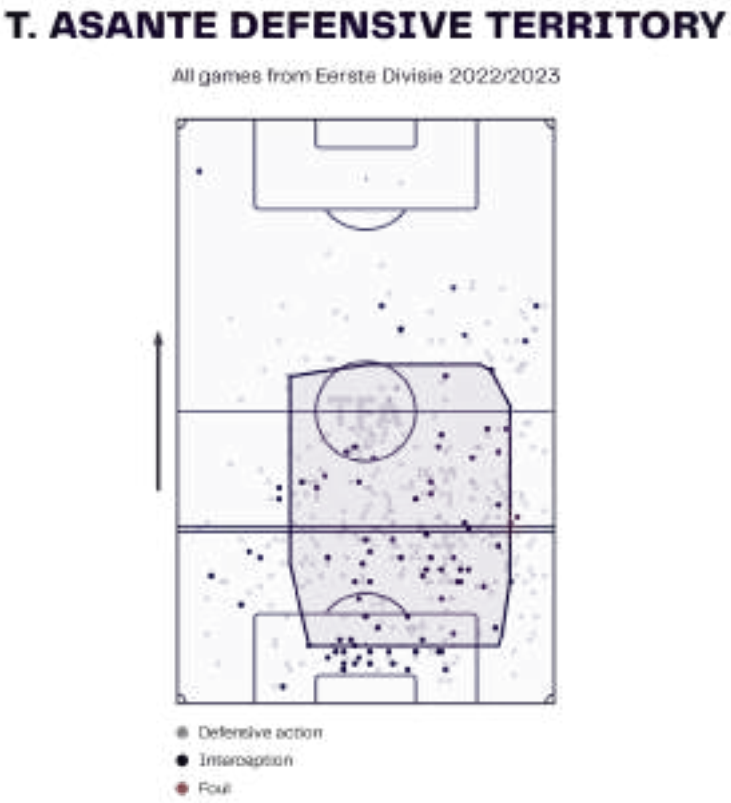
Attacking Possession Defending

Percentile Rank vs RCBs in Netherlands-Eerste Divisie-2| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Asante has a good read of the game and is also quick on his feet. The team plays a medium block but he is a player who could play in a high defensive line as well. He looks a step ahead of his man and also has the mobility to track the runs of his opponent. He doesn't look static when passes are played behind the defensive line. He is premeditative of the passes played and moves along the attacker but looks a lot quicker which allows him to intercept them.

He doesn't have a giant frame but has a tremendous leap which allows him to dominate aerial duels. He is quite agile during 1 v 1 duels which allows him to recover even if he gets beaten. He doesn't seem to dominate defensive duels which might be an issue while coming up against stronger opponents. In a low block, he is brave enough to put his body on the line and makes tackles and challenges when required but can be a little unconvincing with some of his blocks and clearances.



ATTACKING PHASE

Asante is quite comfortable on the ball. He generally plays on the right side of the defence or in the middle when playing 3 at the back. He has a neat first touch and tends to drop as the last man which allows him to assess his options up front. He shows good pitch awareness and that is replicated in his distribution. He has a wide array of passes and predominantly looks secure. He does well to keep the ball moving and often knows his pass when he receives the ball.

His short passes are crisp and accurate and hardly fluster when put under pressure. In tight spaces, he tries to pick the right pass instead of clearing the ball to safety. He can play long passes and diagonal balls with the right elevation and pace. More often than not, he gets the execution right. He seems like a target during offensive set pieces and tries to attack the ball to win his headers. He doesn't win his headers convincingly in the opposition box, nevertheless, he is a threat to the defence.

TRANSITIONS

Asante intends to play out from the back and shows a good variety of passes to catch the opposition during offensive transitions. He can release the ball quickly and with precision. He attempts long balls and diagonal passes which he can put in the right areas for his teammates to attack. He doesn't seem to carry the ball forward as he often plays as the last man.

Asante shows commitment and involvement during the defensive transitions. He intends to drop back or make recovery runs to cover for the mistakes of his defensive partners. He generally anticipates danger very well and has the mobility to cut down forward passes. He can sometimes be a little weak with his clearances and duels.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Asante stands at 188 cm and has a relatively lean physique. He is a little weak when competing in defensive duels and needs to show more conviction while clearing crosses and passes.

He has the pace to track or mark the runs of his opponent. His anticipation is good and also looks mobile enough to change his direction quickly. He tends to dominate in the air with the excellent leap that he gets.

He is a two-footed player.

KURYU MATSUKI

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM

Kuryu Matsuki is a talented midfielder who is still young yet so mature when it comes to his overall game awareness. He was quick and used his quick footwork to get away from his marker. He was superb when carrying possession forward and looked like an excellent dribbler with the ball at his feet. He was a confident presence on the pitch and played with a good level of maturity throughout his game. His decision-making and overall attributes as the prior were really good. He can be a very good player in the coming years if he works on the physical side of the game.

Attacking Possession Defending

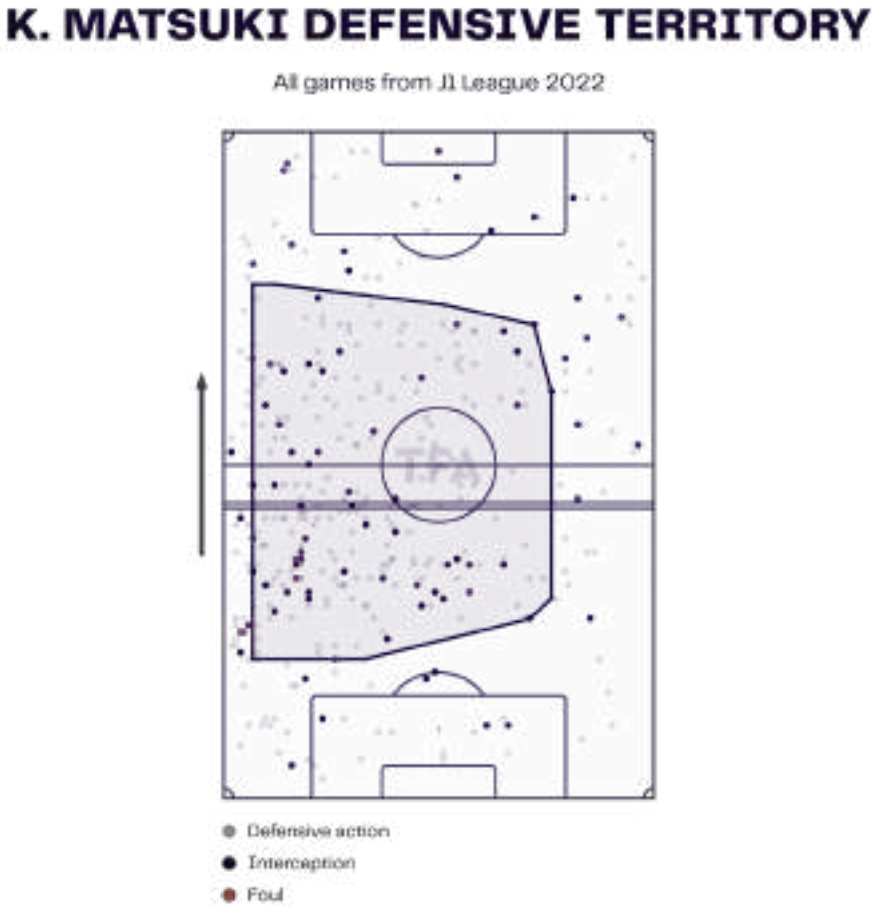
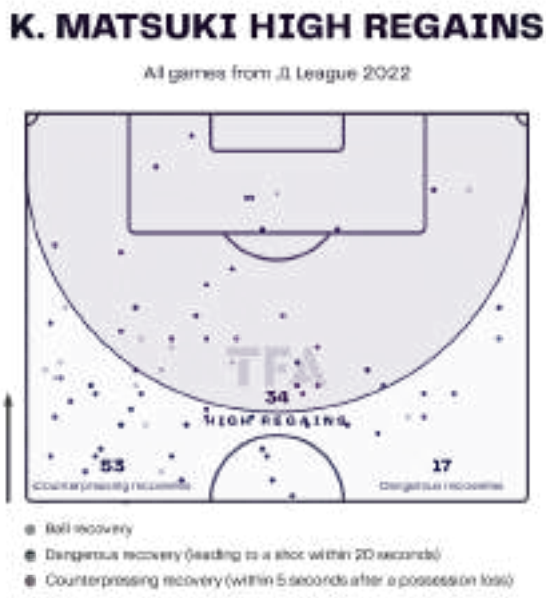
Percentile Rank vs LCMs in Japan-J1 League-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

He largely chose to stay higher up the pitch and thus was not that involved in defensive duties. He was one of the team's best-attacking outlets.

Despite this, he did drop back and helped to defend during opposition attacks. He put in good challenges to win the ball back and was successful often, but this did not look like his strongest suit.





ATTACKING PHASE

Matsuki was exceptional when in possession of the ball and looked to constantly create a goal-scoring opportunity out of every passing chance. His dribbling ability and quick feet were standout features of his game. Looked versatile, but was most comfortable when deployed in a wider role.

He was excellent in the number 8 role, his passing range is quite impressive and he plays some great balls in behind the defensive line. His passing accuracy in the final third was exceptional as well, he played some smart through balls for the strikers.

He can create chances with his longer more progressive passes but looks most likely to provide an assist with his set-piece delivery. He likes to whip in his crosses at pace into dangerous areas and can also follow clever set routines to catch the opposition off guard.

He was a live wire going forward and was one of the team's most dangerous players in their attacking transitions. He was very quick in changing gears and used his pace well to move the ball forward during counter-attacks.

He was involved in the defensive transitions but not as much as he was when it came to the offensive transitions. He tracked back well and looked capable of covering for his teammates, often using his bursts of pace to fall back into vacant spaces. He also put in robust challenges to try and win the ball back, often helping to start counterattacks by retrieving possession.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Matsuki is 180cm tall and has a lean physique. He shows good strength and balance to shrug off challenges but can show more physicality in defensive duels.

He is not the quickest or fastest but plays with good intensity and is always on the move.

He is also not the greatest in the air although he is willing to challenge for headers consistently.

SCOUT REPORT

SHAKHBOZ UMAROV

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM

Shakhboz Umarov is a 25-year-old left winger who is comfortable on the ball and is an astute dribbler. He is skilful and has the quick feet to trouble the defence. His crosses into the box are a consistent threat and does have an eye for a goal as well. He needs to work on his penetrative passes and his shooting technique, which let him down at times.

Off the ball, he displayed good awareness, tenacity and aggression to get in and engage opponents, and did not give up a challenge easily. Although, he needs to improve his tackling technique. He is a promising winger and has the attributes to play at a higher level.

PLAYER PROFILE

Shakhboz Umarov is a 23-year-old left-winger who currently plays for Ordabasy in the Kazakhstan First Tier.

He is a right-footed player but can use his left foot when needed. He predominantly operates on the left side and can contribute in the final third consistently. His work ethic is quite good and looks capable of playing in a high-intensity team.

He has a market value of €400,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

Umarov started his career at Tashkent and has played for a few other clubs in Uzbekistan, Belarus and Kazakhstan. He recently joined Ordabasy for a fee of €50,000.

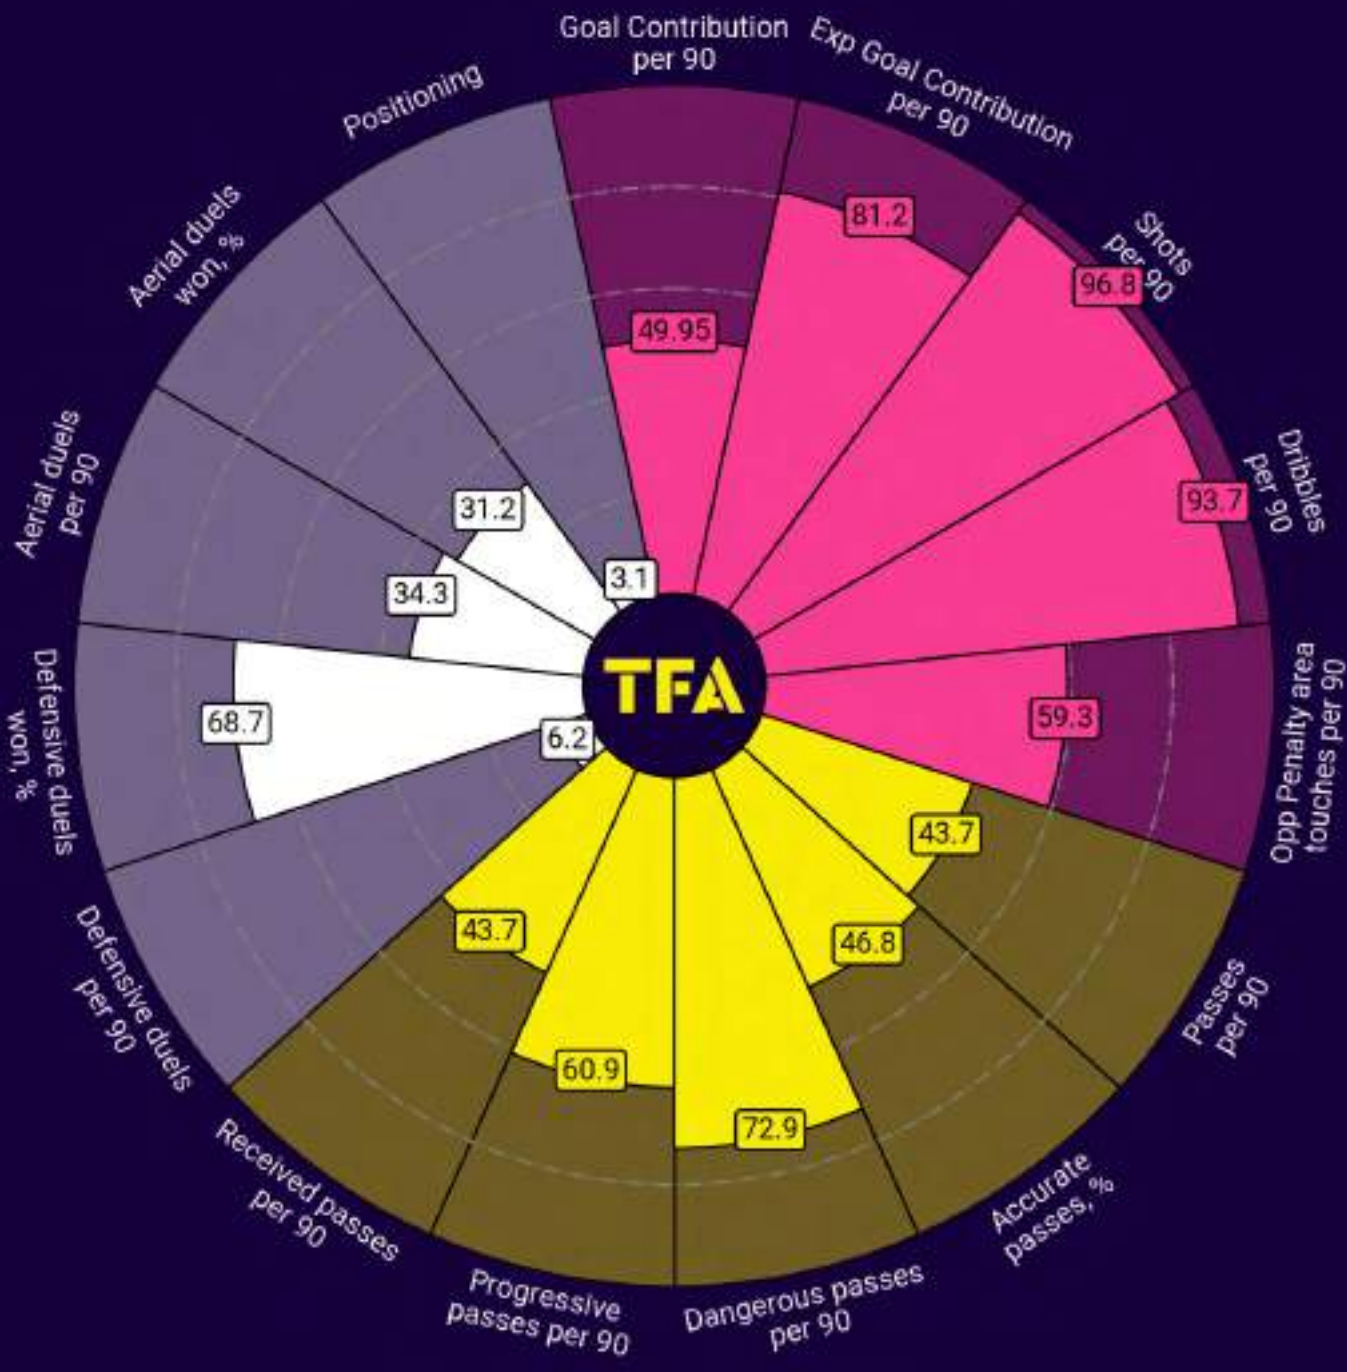
BATE | 23-years-old | Season 2022-23



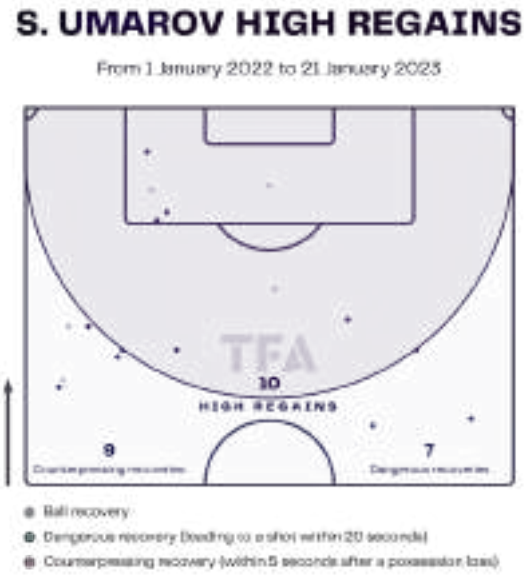
Attacking Possession Defending

Percentile Rank vs LWs in Kazakhstan-Premier League-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Umarov is not a natural defender but he looks committed going into challenges. Occasionally, he goes in early and gets beaten but he is well covered by his teammates. He has the willingness to close down the opposition and win back possession aggressively and certainly has the potential to be a part of a high-intensity press.

He has good acceleration and can change directions quickly which allows him to intercept passes on the flank. His speed allows him to win those 50-50 battles in the attacking half. His technique while making a tackle did not look right and that is one aspect which he needs to work on.



ATTACKING PHASE

Umarov has an energetic presence and is always keen on making those runs down the left flank to support his team in attack. He looks comfortable on the ball and aids the build-up play by linking up with his midfielders effectively.

He indicates his ability to work his way around tight spaces and under pressure by sustaining possession. He has the pace to take on players in 1 v 1 situations and can beat them on the inside as well as the outside. His body balance is excellent and generally withstands the challenges from the opposition while driving forward.

He gets into the final third consistently to deliver crosses using either of his foot. He generally puts them in the right areas for his teammates to attack. When he tries to play incisive passes, his idea looks right but seems to lack execution. His set-piece deliveries are a constant threat and unsettle the defence. He is willing to attempt shots from range but needs to get better conviction behind his efforts. He did get into several goal-scoring positions and did get away shots with minimal touches.

Umarov looks lively during offensive transitions. Shows good intent and is always looking to run past defenders and put in good crosses for his strikers. He is also comfortable striding forward with the ball to exploit the space offered as well. He generally initiates attacking moves by indulging in the build-up phase and making a quick supporting run forward.

Umarov is committed and involved during the defensive transitions. He shows a good willingness to track back and has the pace to match his opponent stride for stride. Despite not winning his duels consistently, he has the right attitude to close down his man by indulging in the counter-press.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Umarov stands at 182 cm and has an athletic frame. He looks very commanding while indulging in 1 v 1 duels. He is quick and mobile, covering good ground in both halves.

He has a good change of pace and agility which aids his primary as well as secondary tasks. He has a good work rate and can play at a high intensity throughout the 90 minutes.

He is a right-footed player.

SCOUT REPORT

MIHAEL KUPRESAK

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM

Mihael Kupresak is an attacking left-back who is consistently willing to get forward down the flank and provide support in the final third. He has the footwork and pace to drive forward with the ball and his supporting movements were quite driven as well. His crossing technique seems to be a standout feature of his game and also unsettle the defence regularly.

His defensive game is generally decent and uses his agility to perform his primary tasks. He is generally aware of the space behind the defence and tracks back properly. He did struggle in 1 v 1 duels and can be seen lunging into tackles unnecessarily, with better anticipation he wouldn't necessarily get caught on the wrong side of his man. He has a decent presence in the air and likes to attack the ball and be physical with his man in aerial duels. He looks like a player with the potential to play at a higher tier.

PLAYER PROFILE

Mihael Kupresak is a 21-year-old left-back who plays for Siroki Brijeg in the Bosnia First Tier.

He is a left-footed player with an attacking mindset. He looks like a modern-day full-back but there is scope for improvement in his defensive game.

He has a current market value of €350,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

Kupresak came through the ranks of Osijek and played for their second team before joining his current club Siroki Brijeg on a free transfer in 2022. His contract expires in the summer.

Attacking Possession Defending

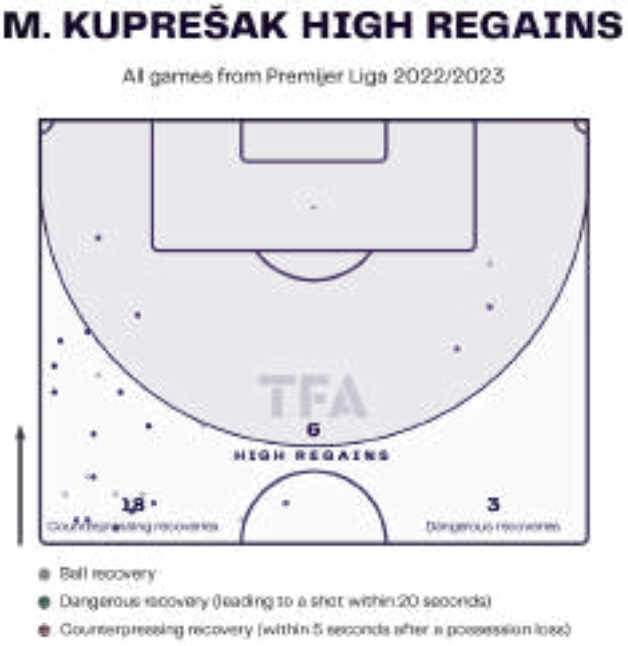
Percentile Rank vs LBs in Bosnia & Herzegovina-Premijer Liga-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Kupresak has a good sense of defensive positioning and never really got caught out of position. He maintains the back line very well and looks mobile enough to cope with the movement of his opponent. He has the pace and looks able to enough to track back or make recovery runs. At times, his anticipation looked a little poor due to which he did get caught out of position on a few occasions.

Kupresak looks committed in 1 v 1 duels, particularly in the wide areas. He is willing to pounce on any loose touch from the opposition. With his tendency to lunge into tackles, he can be seen struggling against skilful opponents for a simple drop of the shoulder. Even though he lost out on most 1 v 1 situations, he can be seen showing the intent and quick reactions to be able to recover.

Kupresak had a decent aerial presence. He is willing to attack the ball and generally gets a good leap on his jump. The outcome can be mixed nevertheless, his intent to disrupt his opponent with his physicality did make an impact. His positioning inside the box looks good while defending crosses and gets good distance on his clearances as well.



ATTACKING PHASE

Kupresak has the constant urge to provide width down the left flank and generally prefers to occupy a slightly higher position. He looks composed on the ball with a neat first touch and the ability to keep the ball close to him in tight spaces. He looks good with his distribution and has the vision to spot the forward runs of his attackers. Can play long and diagonal passes to release his forwards behind the back line. His link-up play and overlapping runs look good and that allows him to get on the ball in the final third.

With an attacking mindset, he is constantly willing to drive forward with the ball from the flank. He is a promising dribbler who combines pace and skill to beat his man in 1 v 1 situations to go on the inside or outside. Gets into crossing positions regularly and has the technique to put his deliveries into dangerous areas.

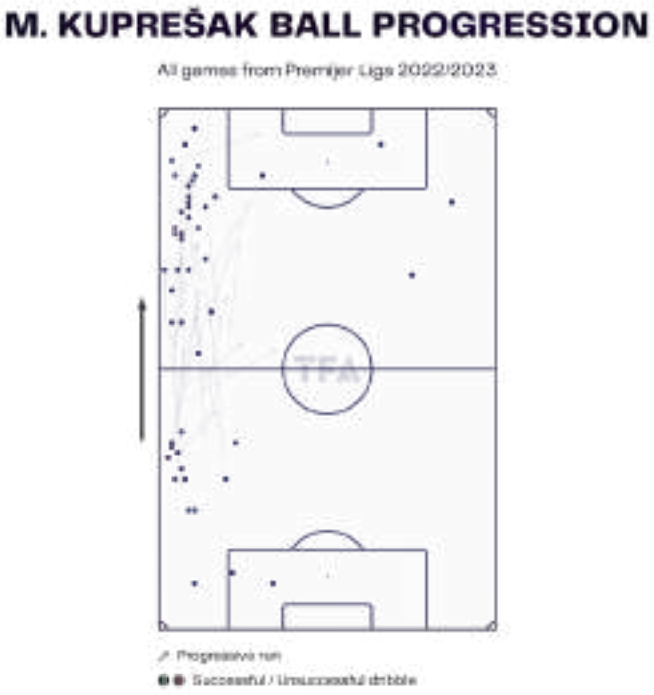
Kupresak looks lively during the offensive transitions as he is quick to get forward and stays close to the touchline to spread the back line which helped his team to create pockets of space through the channels. Looks dynamic in terms of his ball-carrying ability and supporting runs as he often gets past opposition lines. His range of passes helps his team catch the defence off guard as well.

Kupresak generally shows a good position and game awareness during the defensive transitions. His pace and mobility are the key features of his game which allows him to cover the space offered behind him. Although, he needs to show a little bit more patience in the wide areas while indulging in tackles and challenges.



PHYSICAL PROFILE

Kupresak stands at 178 cm and has a lean physique. He looks competent and aggressive while indulging in duels and shows good strength to win his tackles as well.

For a left-back, his work ethic looks promising and is willing to make runs up and down the pitch consistently. He is decent in the air for his height and likes to attack the ball with conviction.

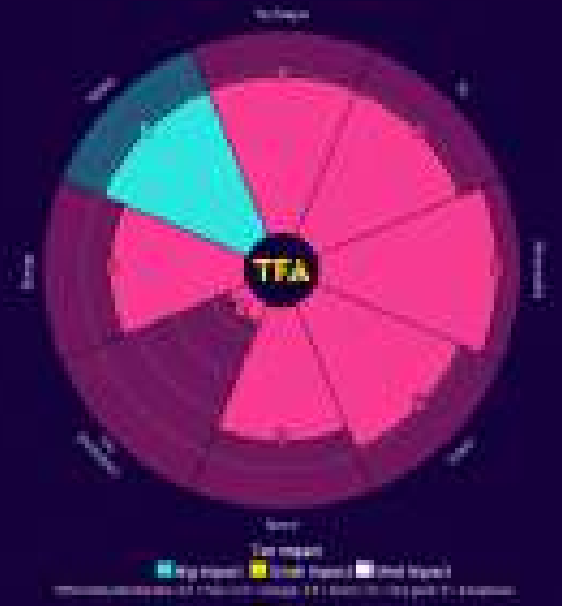
TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM



Sandro Kulenovic is a young target man centre forward who combines great technical ability with physicality. He has an excellent first touch, is very good at holding up the play with his back to goal and coming short to link up the play. He has decent footwork which allows him to manoeuvre in tight spaces and over. Finish with either foot when given an opening. However, he can look to get in behind more often and have more shots on target. His work rate off the ball is excellent, constantly tracking back or counter pressing to win back possession, barring a few cases. He is seen pressing high up the pitch as well as defending set pieces in his own half effectively.

PLAYER PROFILE

Sandro Kulenovic is a 23-year-old striker who currently plays for Lokomotiva Zagreb in the Croatian top flight on loan from Dynamo Zagreb in the same league.

He is right-footed and generally plays as a target man centre forward, as a lone number 9.

He has a current market value of €2,000,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

Kulenovic is a product of the Dynamo Zagreb academy and has been on loan spells to multiple clubs. He is currently on loan at Lokomotiva Zagreb from Dynamo, till the end of the season.

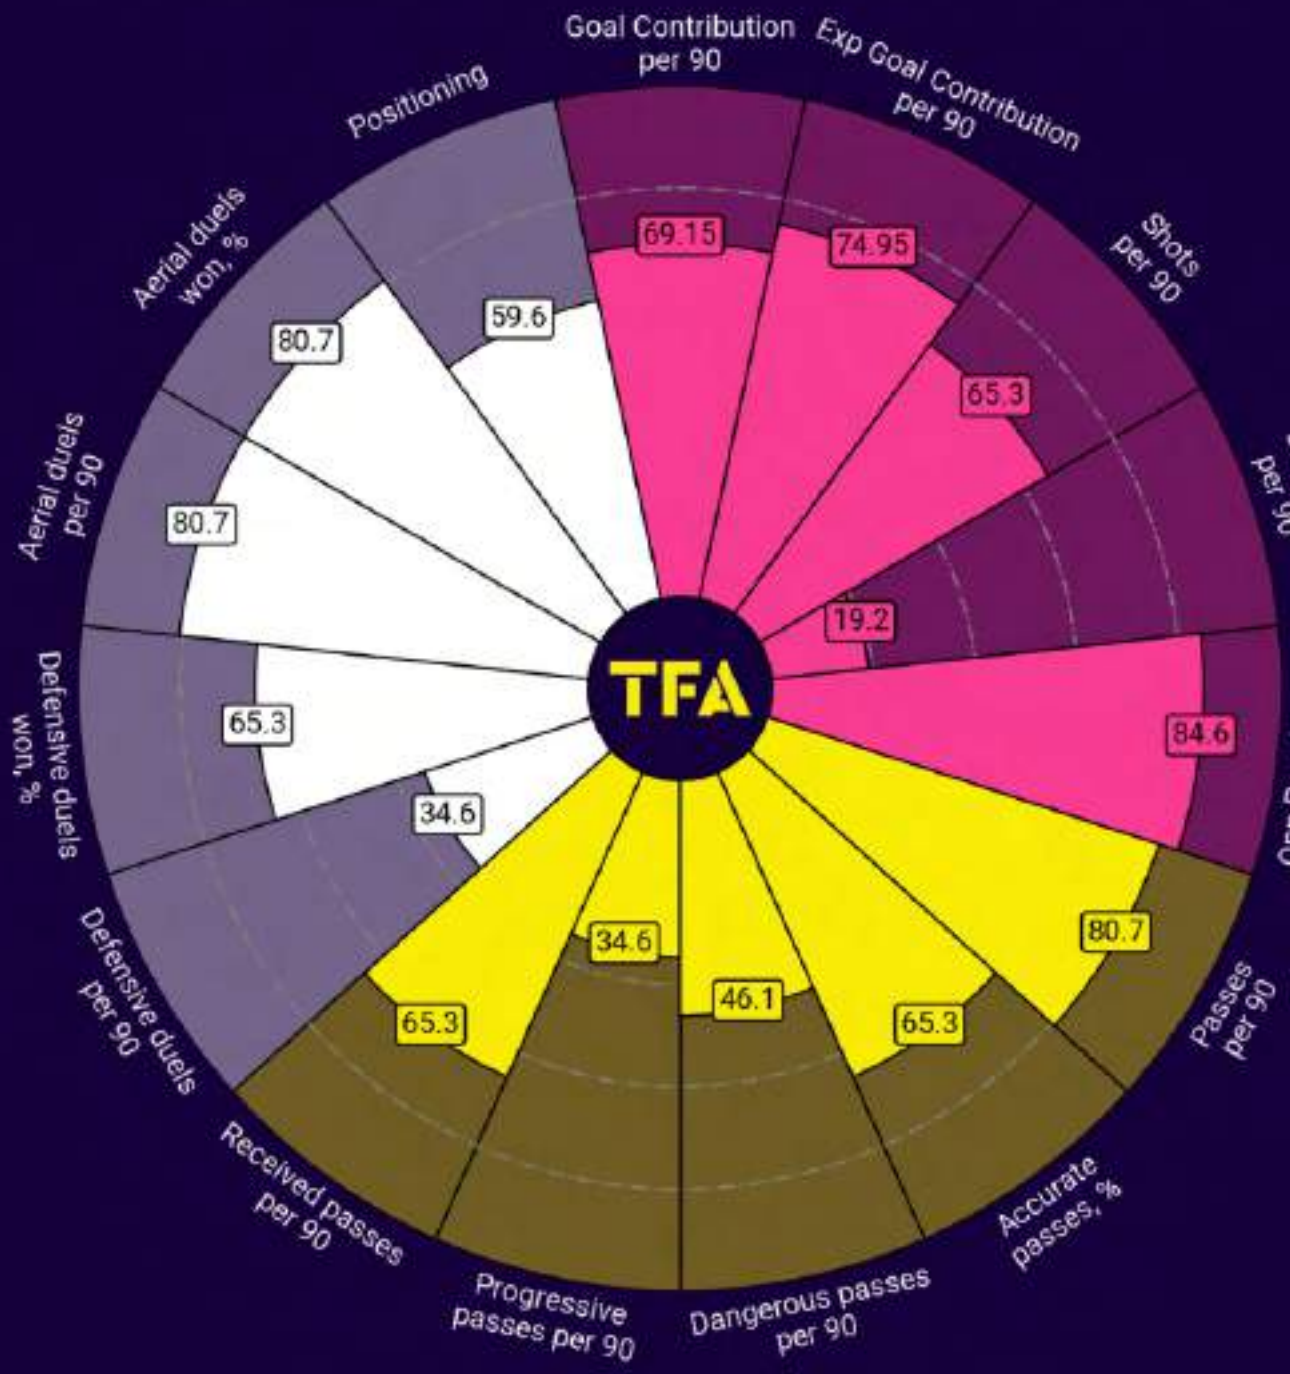
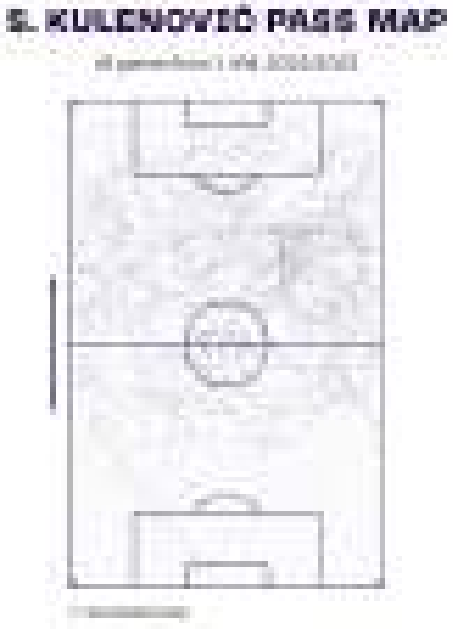
Lokomotiva Zagreb | 23-years-old | Season 2022-23



Percentile Rank vs CFs in Croatia-1. HNL-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Kulenovic has an excellent work ethic and is constantly looking to make things happen for his team, with or without the ball. He is constantly making runs to come short and offers options and is willing to chase down lost causes. He is an effective defender during set pieces and manages to win his fair share of headers during crosses and wide free kicks. He also presses high up the pitch consistently and drops back to help out when his team look vulnerable.



ATTACKING PHASE

Kulenovic has an excellent first touch with both feet and chest. He is constantly seen coming short and linking up the play with accurate first-time lay offs, with his back to goal. He has the strength to hold off defenders with his back to goal and is accurate with his receiving under pressure. He uses his height to jump for a lot of aerial duels and does well to help his team build from long balls, even if he does not win all his headers.

Despite his large frame, Kulenovic is fairly agile and has the close control required to work his way past challenges. He is not necessarily dominant in 1v1 duels but has the footwork and agility to turn away from challenges when closed down. Most of his movement off the ball is to come short to try and link up the play. He does look to make forward runs and tries to attack crosses into the box as well but can make more incisive runs.

Kulenovic shows good vision and ideas with his quick first-time lay offs and more ambitious final passes but does not necessarily have the ability to play clever final or through balls from deep. He is a genuine target inside the box, constantly attacks crosses and is on the move. He does need to get on the end of more chances from different avenues but when given a chance, he has a good shot and can finish with both feet.

Kulenovic can be very effective on the counter because of his physicality and willingness to run. He constantly challenges aerial balls from long clearances and even managed to regain possession from a few of them. He uses his pace to make runs into space and can carry the ball or play quick forward passes. But given his physical attributes, he can look to retain possession better from clearances.

Kulenovic generally shows great reactions after possession is lost, immediately tracking back to help out defensively. He is willing to scrap for the ball and puts in challenges in the midfield. Even if he does get beaten, he shows good tenacity and energy to carry on applying pressure. However, there were occasions when he went to ground after a tackle or generally looked a little tired and static after a turnover.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Kulenovic is 190cm tall and has a large muscular frame. He shows good physical strength to hold off defenders with his back to goal and has the leap to win headers consistently, across the pitch.

Despite his frame, he is fairly agile and has a good top speed once he gets into his stride. He shows quick footwork on the ball and shows good speed when given space to run.

He also plays with good intensity in all phases of the game.

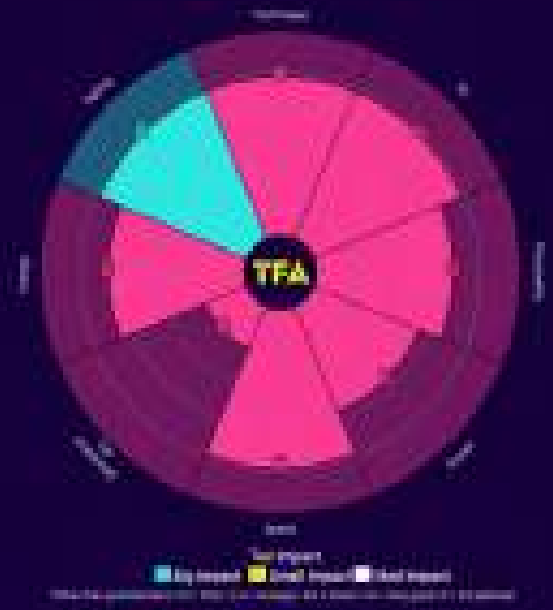
TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM



Conrad Wallem is a young versatile footballer who can play as a left winger, attacking midfielder or as a left sided central midfielder. He is generally given freedom to roam and likes to pickup the ball deeper down the left flank as well as get in between lines in the final third like an attacking midfielder. He has good roaminess and dribbling ability but tends to turn backwards and make most of his dribbles in his own half. He has the vision and weight on his passes to open up defences and create shooting opportunities as well as getting into the box himself and attacking crosses with his head or picking up loose balls in the final third. He shows good work rate to get back into defensive shape immediately and helps out his full backs but is rather weak in 1v1 duels.

He is right-footed and plays a variety of positions like LW, LAMF, LCM or similar positions on the right as well.

He has a current market value of €500,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

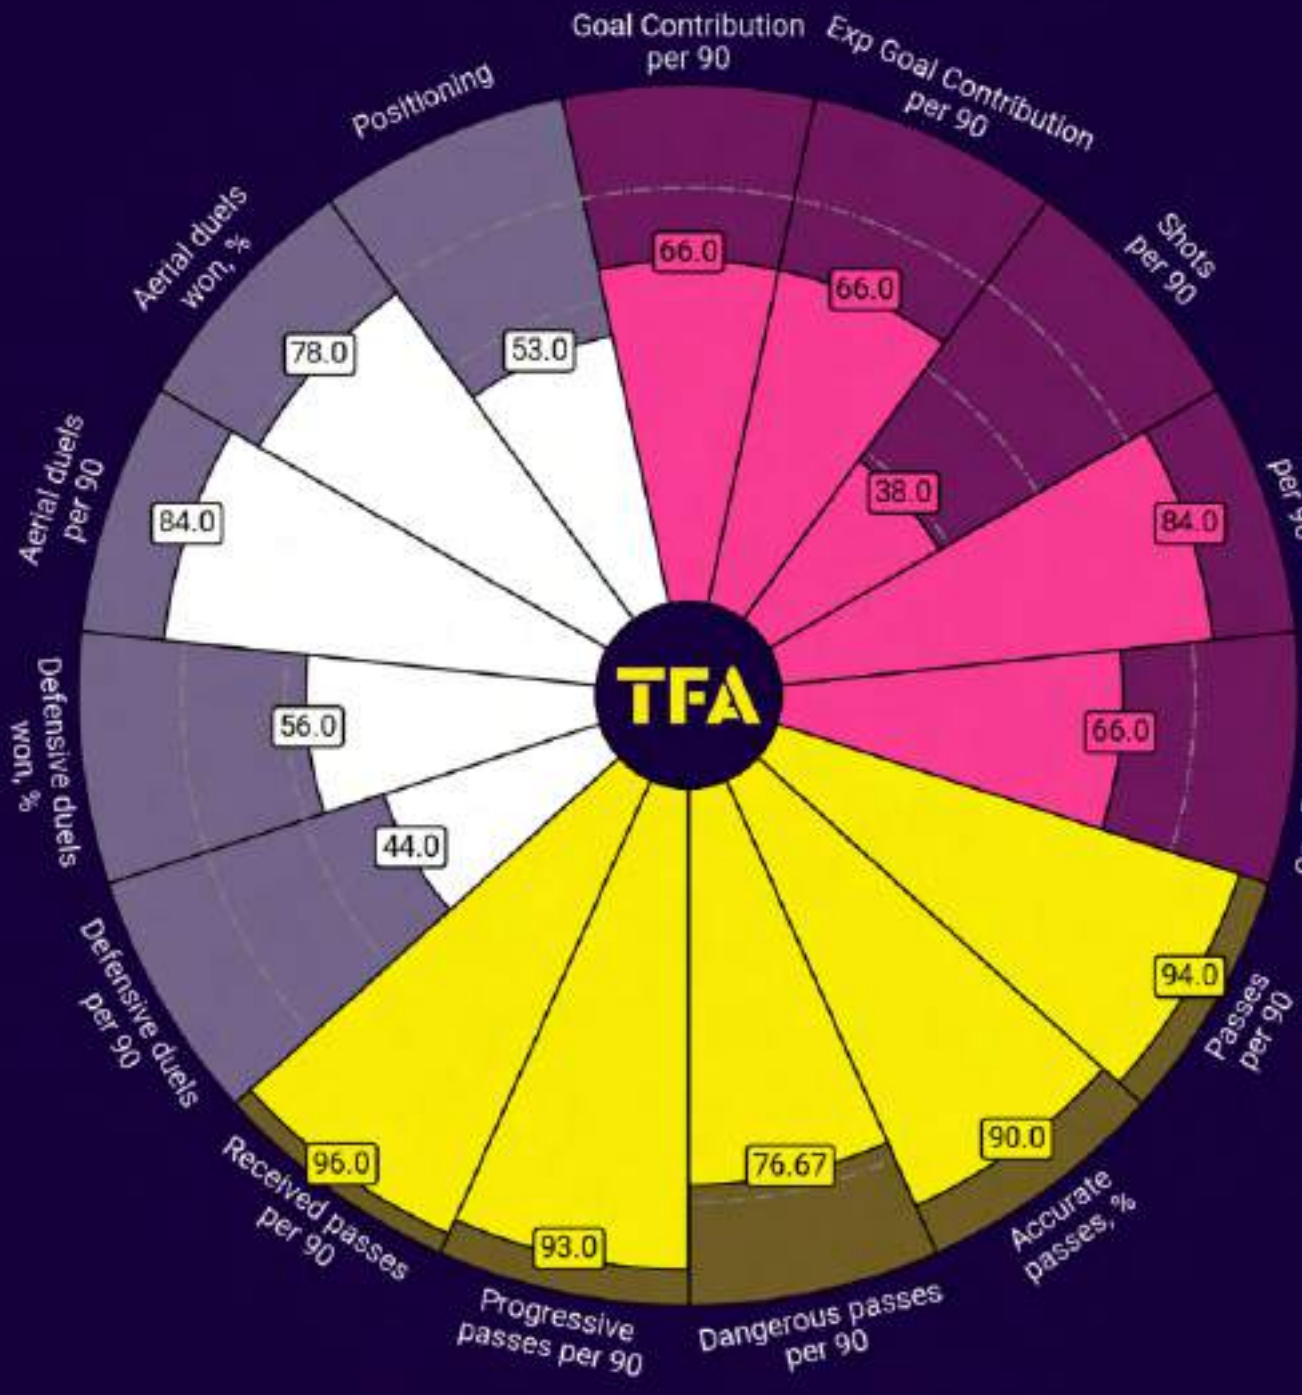
Odds | 22-years-old | Season 2022-23



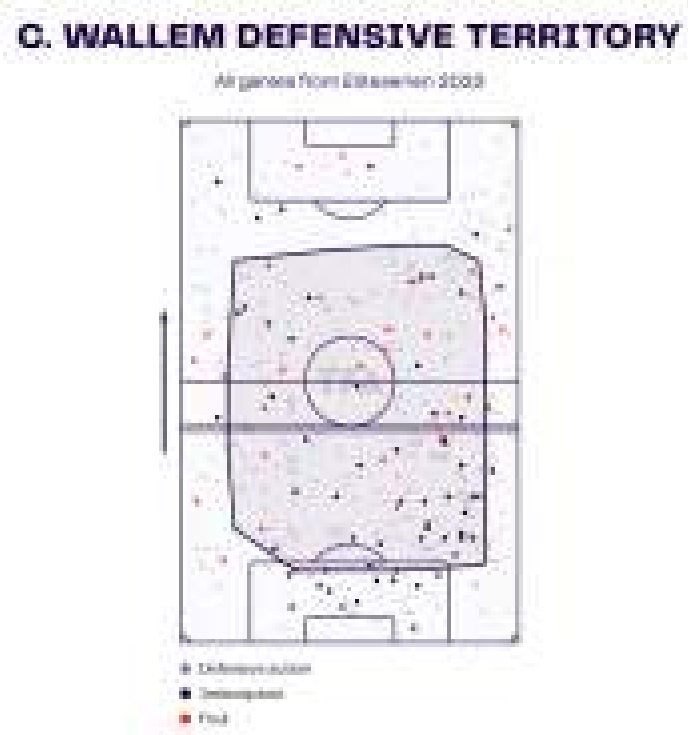
Attacking Possession Defending

Percentile Rank vs RCMs in Norway-Eliteserien-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Wallem has a high defensive work rate when it comes to tracking back and helping out. He is often seen doubling up with his full-backs against opponents and even makes a decent number of defensive interventions. He is generally seen covering the half spaces but is also willing to go wide to engage opposition-wide players. He was not the most effective in the high press and was rarely seen closing down intensely high up the pitch to win the ball or force errors. Most of his closing down comes near the halfway line and he is generally seen cutting off passing lanes when his teammates are pressing high.

Wallem is not a great defender 1v1. He tends to commit himself rather easily and lacks the strength to physically overpower opponents when going shoulder to shoulder. He is rather easily beaten at times and ends up giving away fouls. On the rare occasions that he stands his ground, he is more difficult to beat.



ATTACKING PHASE

Wallem has good technique and a secure first touch. He receives the ball under pressure with great composure and rarely takes a loose touch. But while receiving along the left, he tends to receive with his back to goal or turn backwards often instead of looking to turn forwards which tends to slow down the move.

He is not a conventional winger and likes the freedom to roam. He is often seen dropping back to the LB position as well as receiving the ball along the left flank higher in the opposition half. He likes to come infield and play as an attacking midfielder, getting close to his striker and stringing passes in the final third, in between the lines. He is rarely seen making runs in behind. As he likes to take up positions infield, he is not seen getting into crossing positions often although he can curl the ball in from the left. He is a very clever passer, puts good weight on his short passes and has the vision to pick out teammates in space. He can pierce defence with his through passes as well as set up teammates to create shooting opportunities.

He has good ball control and the agility to make quick turns which makes him difficult to dispossess. But a lot of his dribbling is deeper in his own half and can be dangerous when he looks to take too many touches. He likes to cut in onto his right foot and find a pass across or backwards.

He has good size and spring for a winger and is often seen getting into the box to attack crosses. He has the aerial ability to cause problems for defenders, winning the first header, on quite a few occasions. He has the instinct to find himself at the right place to get a quick shot on goal from inside the box. He can look to shoot more from outside the box however.

Although Wallem does a good job in offensive transition, he can be more effective and consistent. He has the pace to make forward runs in support of his attackers, on and off the ball. He also has the passing ability and vision to find the right release after carrying the ball up the pitch. But there were many occasions when he turned the wrong way while breaking and ended up slowing down the move to retain possession instead of taking advantage of the counter.

Wallem does put in an effort to get back into defensive shape but is not necessarily the most effective or energetic in defensive transition. He shows decent reactions and gets back into defensive positions fairly quickly but lacks the aggression and physicality to counter-press and break up play further up the pitch.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Wallem is 180cm tall and has an athletic physique. He is not physically dominant but has a good leap and is brave to attack aerial balls which makes him quite strong aerially and a genuine target inside the box.

He is quick, agile and has good pace over distance, with or without the ball. He decent intensity throughout and constantly drops back to help defensively showing good endurance.

He did put in a few crosses and played some clever short passes in this final third but overall, to unlock it he's often one his first attempted shot and can finish both feet, from short range, long range and [illegible]. PLAYER PROFILE

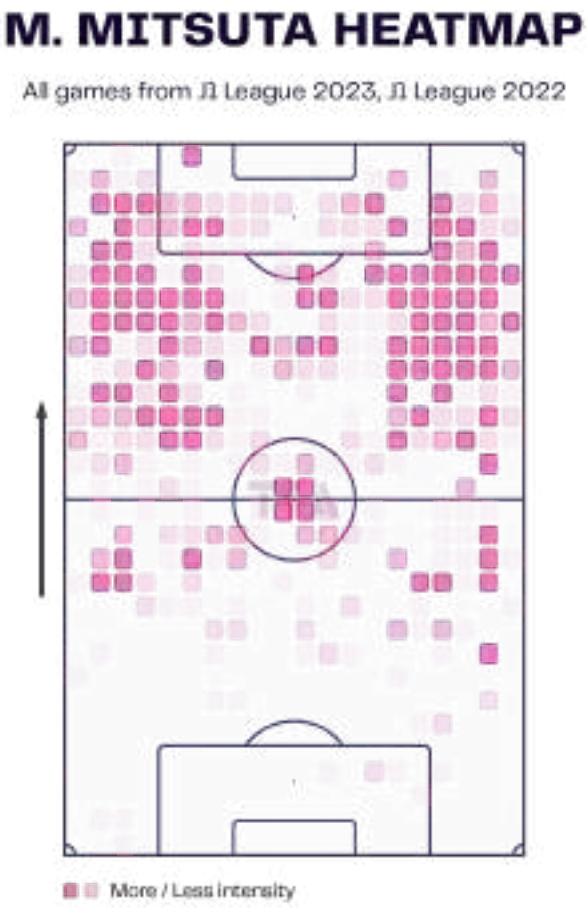
Makoto Mitsuta is a 23-year-old winger who plays for Sanfrecce Hiroshima in the J1 League, the top tier in Japan.

Makoto Mitsuta is a right-footed winger who has very good technical abilities. He is an excellent dribbler and is very difficult to contain 1v1 because of his explosiveness.

He currently has a market value of €850,000.

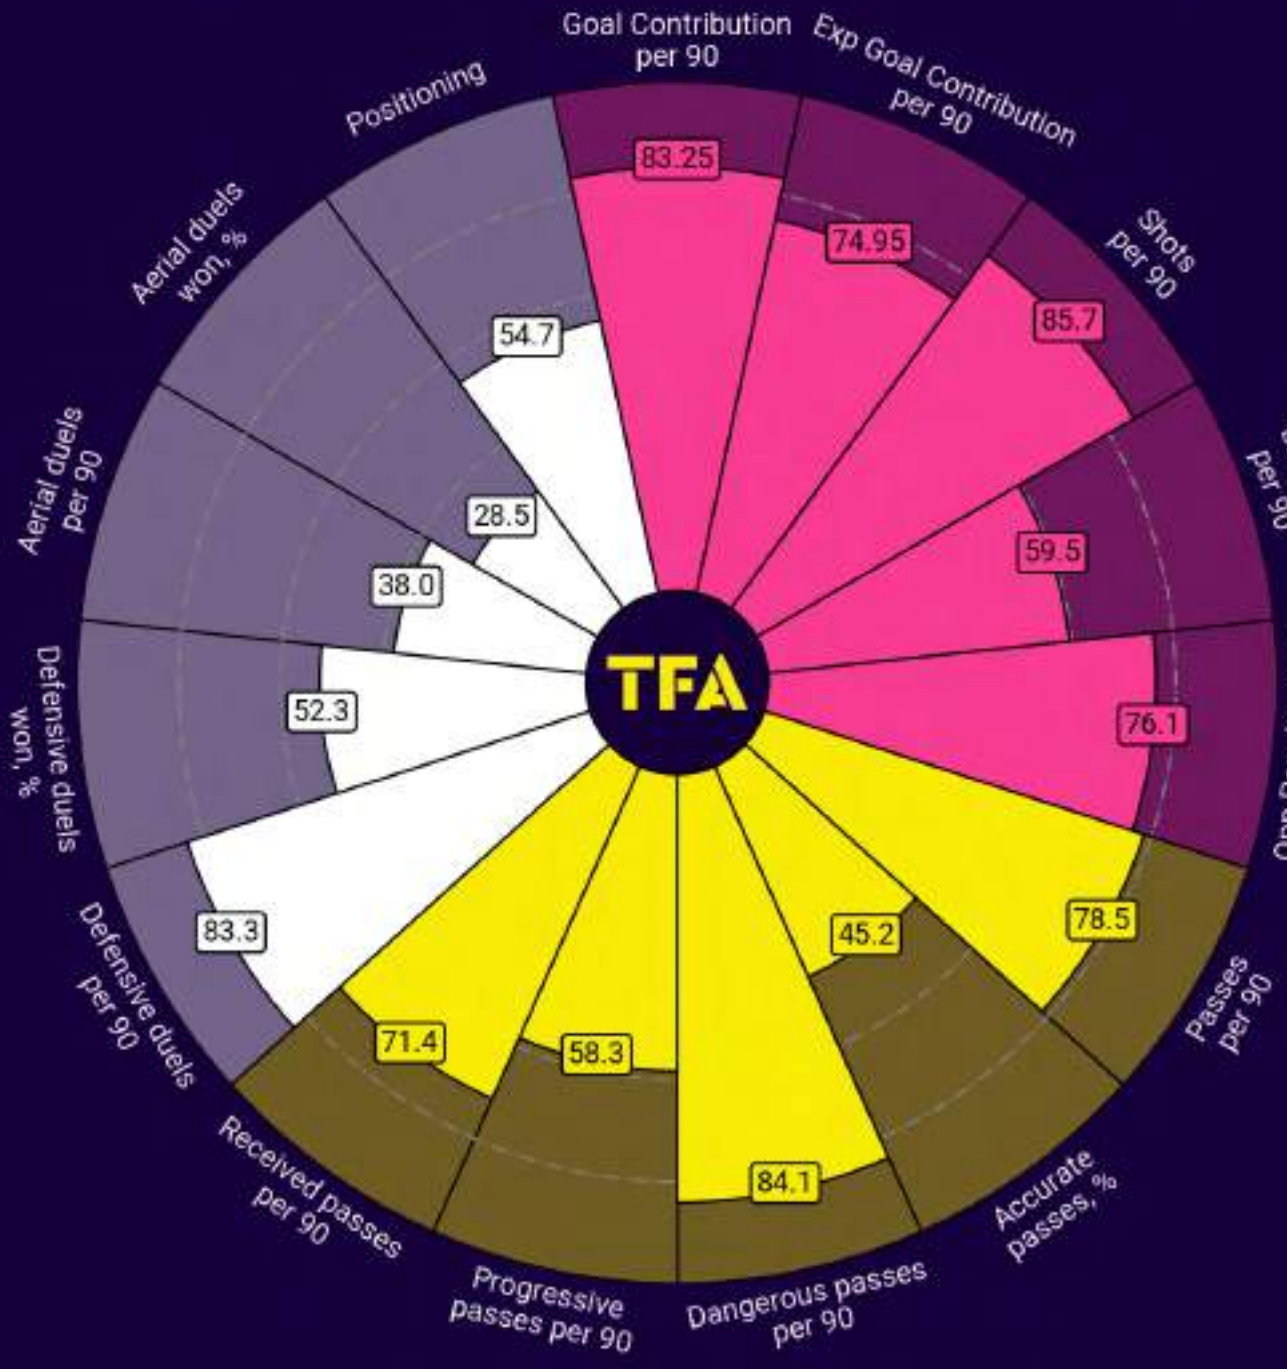
PLAYER HISTORY

Mitsuta started his career at the Sanfrecce U18 team and moved to RKO FC early in his career. He went back to Sanfrecce Hiroshima on a loan in 2021 before making the deal permanent in 2022.



M. Mitsuta | LW | 2503 minutes played

Sanfrecce Hiroshima | 23-years-old | Season 2022-23



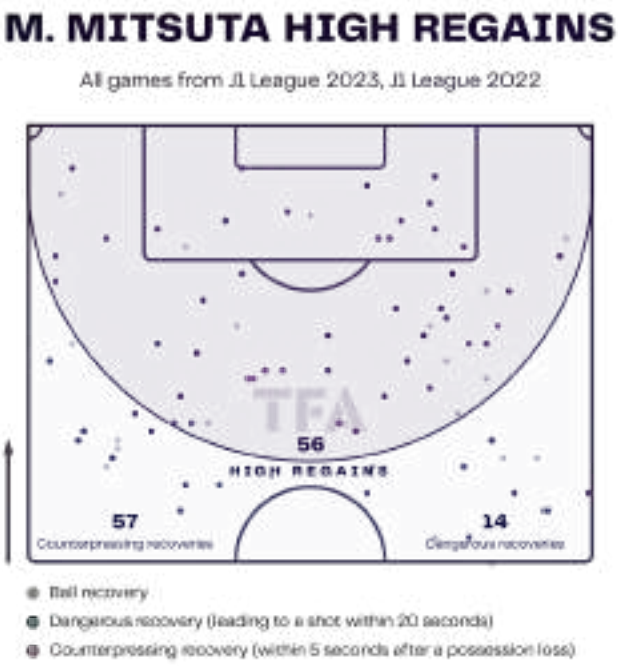
Attacking Possession Defending

Percentile Rank vs LWs in Japan-J1 League-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Given that Mitsuta is rarely seen defending deep in his own half, he does not get into 1v1 defensive duels. Most of his tackles and challenges are higher up the pitch when closing down. He likes to get tight to his man but does not always time his tackle well leading to a free kick or getting beaten.

While supporting his fullbacks, he rarely dropped deep to double up on opponents. He was generally positioned near the edge of the box during defensive set pieces to block the rebound and help his team break. Most of his defensive work comes higher up the pitch. Mitsuta is an excellent presser and is often seen pressing with high intensity individually. The aggression and intensity of his press often cause opponents to hurry their pass or go long instead of playing out from the back.



ATTACKING PHASE

Mitsuta shows good technical ability and has a secure first touch with both feet. He is often seen receiving the ball in tight areas under pressure but does well to turn quickly or receive on the half turn. Mitsuta likes to play with a free role and drifts across the frontline to find pockets of space to operate from. He tends to favour the left flank but is spotted on both flanks fairly often. He is clever with his positioning in and around the box in central areas, often peeling away or coming short just enough to make space and receive the ball.

Mitsuta is an excellent dribbler and is very difficult to contain 1v1 because of his explosiveness. He has the close control to create space for himself to shoot in more central areas but is not as effective when starved of space. Mitsuta does not have a great volume of crosses given his tendency to come infield. He does, however, seem comfortable crossing with both feet and has the variety to play low-driven or whipped-in crosses, but needs to improve his quality. He has a very good shot on him and can shoot with both feet, although he is right-footed. He has the ability to get into goal-scoring positions in and around the box but needs to get more shots away. He can score from distance as well as close range when given the space and time to shoot.

Mitsuta's pace makes him very dangerous on the counter. He is often seen making driving forward runs, on and off the ball, driving past defenders when carrying the ball. Despite his vision and efforts to create chances on the counter, he does need to improve his final pass and end product.

Mitsuta shows very good reactions after losing possession and is often seen immediately pressing the man in possession, even forcing errors on multiple occasions. He is not seen going into many challenges or intercepting a lot of passes himself but does well to force errors from the opposition.

SCOUT REPORT

ZAN VIPOTNIK

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM

Zan Vipotnik is a young striker who demonstrated good mobility and a very good end product. He shows good movement to drop deep to link up play but was not very effective with his hold-up play. He plays with a clear aim to score and constantly looked to make runs and spaces behind the backline. He can time his runs well and also showed a good goalscoring instinct to move into scoring positions. He demonstrated good finishing abilities in the games observed and can strike the ball with good power.

He was effective in the defensive transitions and uses his pace well to press the opponents. He showed a good desire to win the ball. The 20-year-old looks like a promising player.

PLAYER PROFILE

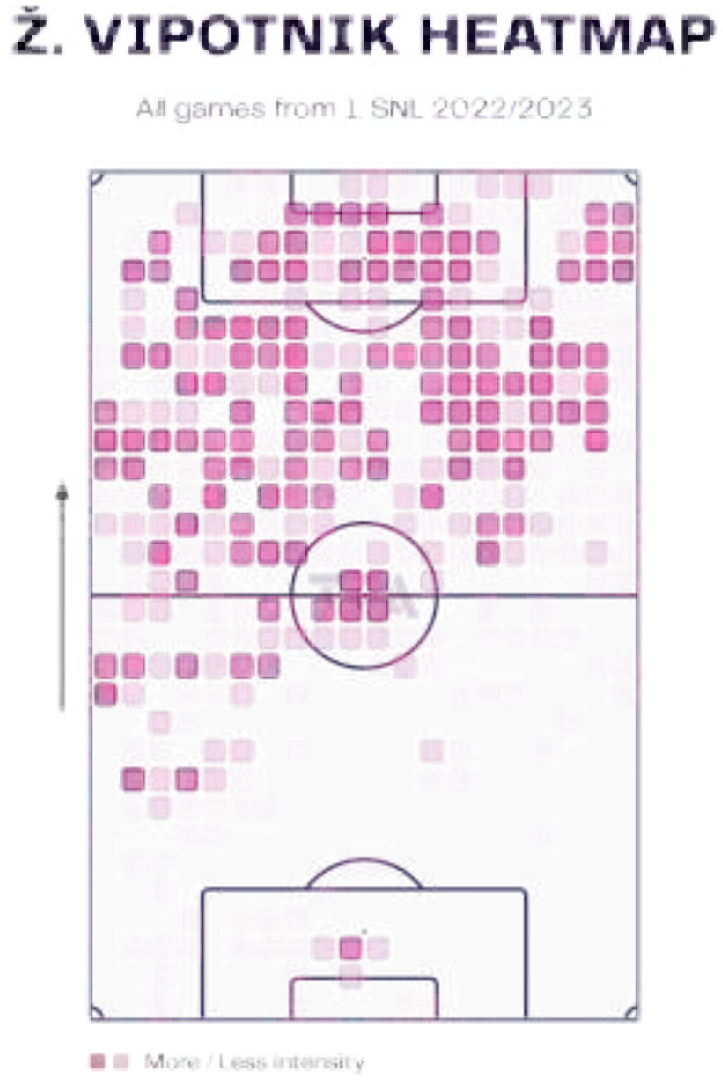
Zan Vipotnik is a 20-year-old who plays as a centre-forward for NK Maribor in the Slovenia First Tier.

Vipotnik is a right-footed player and looks potent up front in terms of his finishing and has a poacher's instinct in the box.

He has a market value of €500,000.

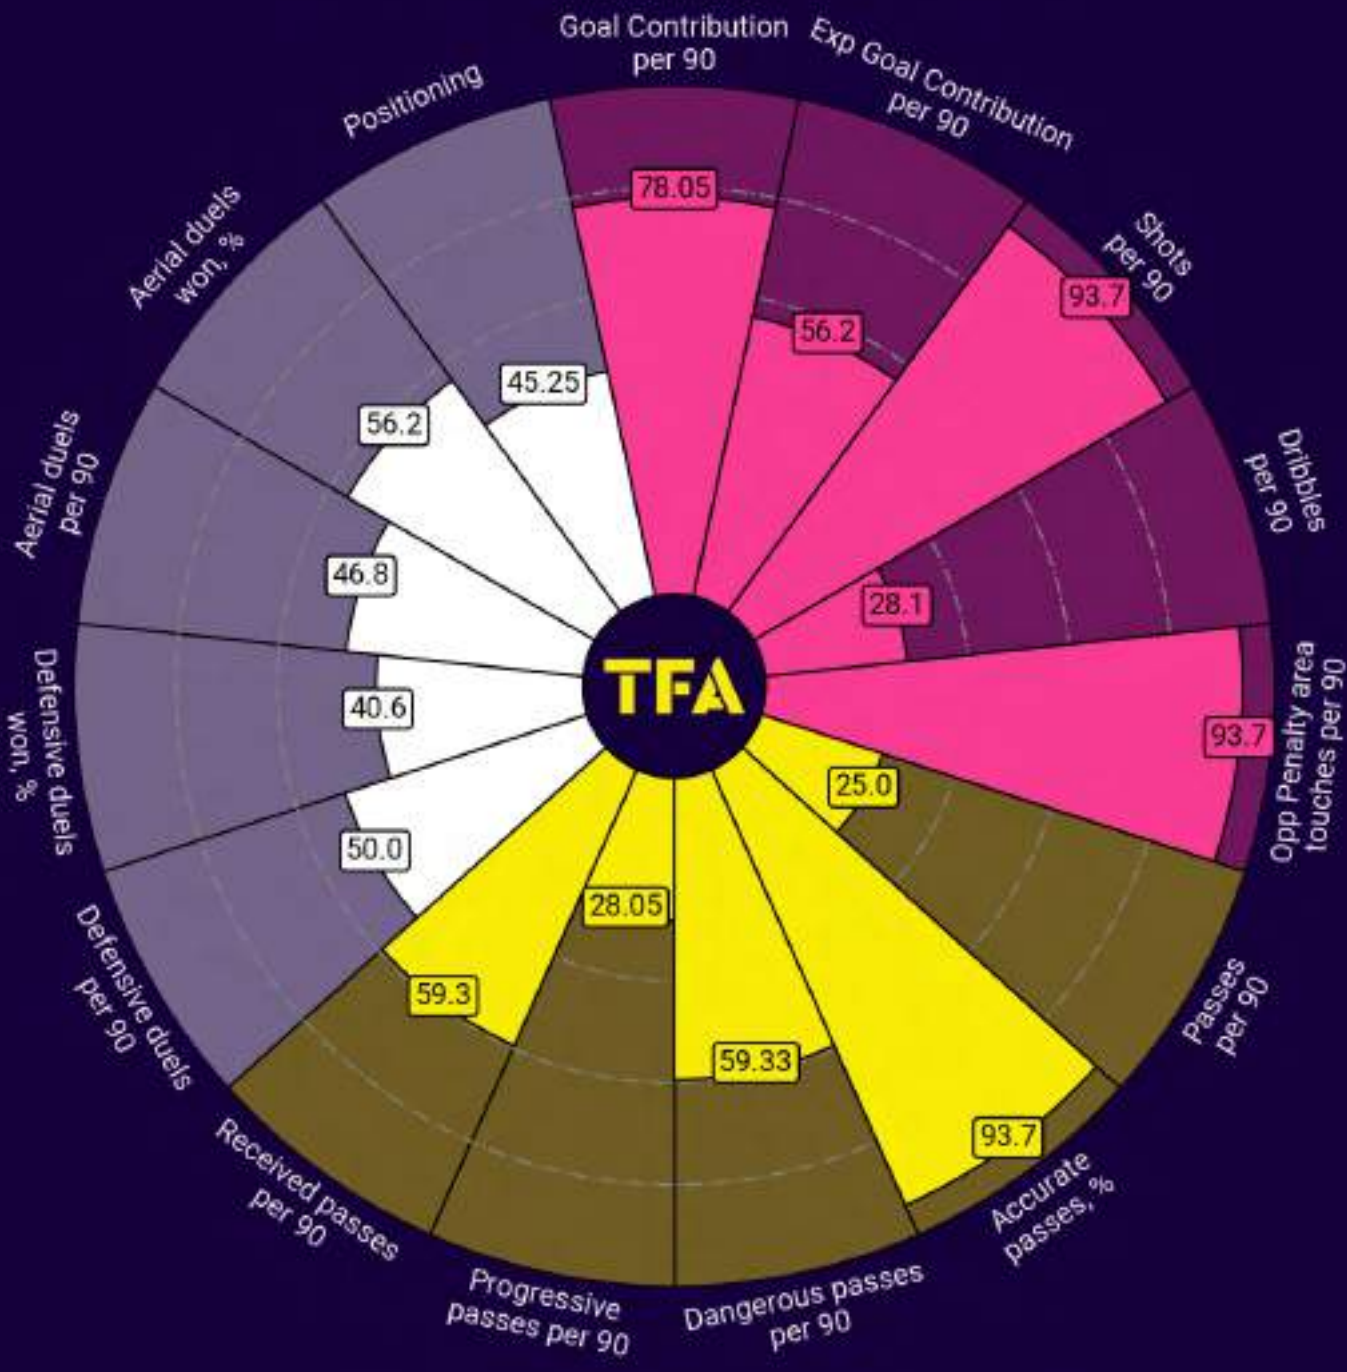
PLAYER HISTORY

Vipotnik started his career at NK Maribor and spent a few seasons on loan at a few other Slovenian teams. He is currently with his parent club and has a contract till the summer of 2024.



Ž. Vipotnik | CF | 1305 minutes played

Maribor | 20-years-old | Season 2022-23



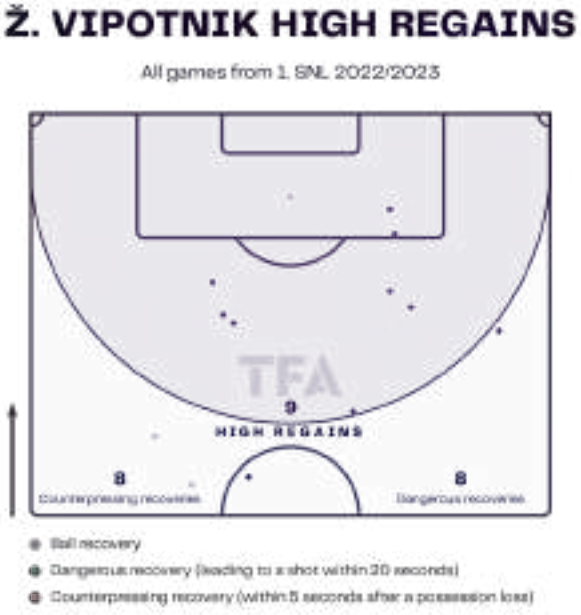
Attacking Possession Defending

Percentile Rank vs CFs in Slovenia-1. SNL-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Vipotnik has a strong work ethic and a high work rate even during the defensive phases of the game. He effectively closes in on his opponents by blocking passing lanes and attempting to force the direction of play.

He has the desire to compete for every loose ball and does very well at putting pressure on defenders to force them to clear their lines. He did track back on a few occasions but doesn't necessarily drop deep to aid his backline.



ATTACKING PHASE

Vipotnik has a decent first touch as he does well to drop deep in order to link up play with first-time passes. He can still improve his ability in terms of holding up play as he possesses the physique to be able to do so. He does have a good aerial ability and can help the team in the build-up by flicking long passes into the path of a teammate.

Vipotnik did not come across as a very prolific dribbler but he makes good use of his pace to beat opponents. He shows smart movement to receive the ball in wider areas while also having the awareness to make runs into spaces behind the backline. He positions himself well inside the box to get in between spaces between defenders to receive from both sides.

Vipotnik demonstrated a strong goalscoring instinct inside the box and sensed scoring opportunities and was quick to get into those positions. He does have good finishing abilities but can be more clinical inside the box. He also showed the ability to create chances for his teammates by playing quick wall passes to set the ball for a teammate.

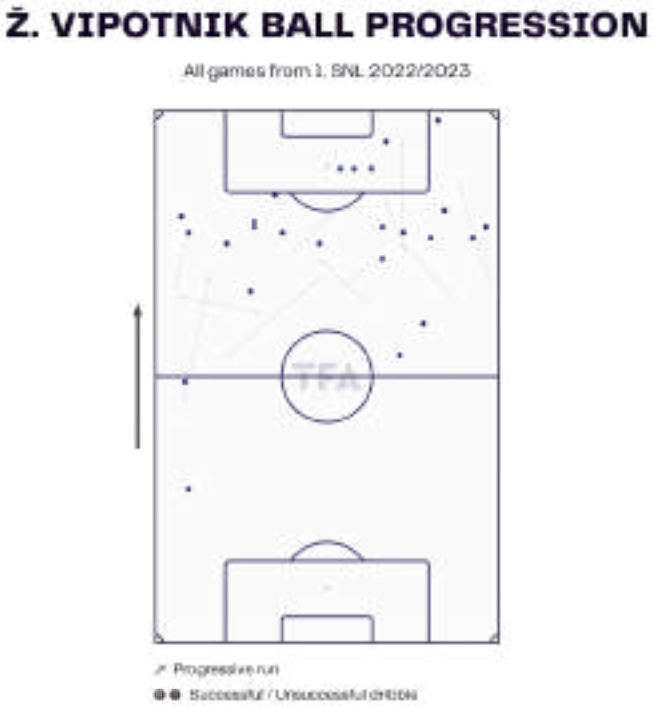
He was quick to react in offensive transitions and showed good movement in these situations. He showed good speed to get away from his marker in counterattacks and is quick to make a forward run. He often looks to make well-timed runs into spaces behind the opposition's backline. Vipotnik also attempted several runs into wider areas of the pitch to lure a defender out of position.

Vipotnik makes good use of his athleticism in defensive transitions to aggressively counter-press and win the ball in the attacking third. He reacts well to turnovers and was quick to track back with an opponent if he had the opportunity to apply pressure on them or try to nick the ball from their feet. He demonstrates a desire to track back with runners and was not afraid to make tackles in order to regain possession.



PHYSICAL PROFILE

Vipotnik stands at 186 cm and has an athletic physique. He looks strong when competing in offensive and defensive duels. He has enough pace and looks mobile but is not very agile in terms of quick directional changes.

He has a decent aerial presence and is committed while challenging in the air. His work rate is the stand-out feature of his defensive game where he is willing to press and counter-press the defence to force a mistake out of them.

He is a right-footed player.

NB: Our calculations don't currently take into account injury data as no FM player under 25 are additional power that is the past 6 months. There are no players to this date in the list of players to play in Eredivisie and have not met the requirement to feature.

PLAYER PROFILE

The Norwegian-Moroccan currently plays for SC Heerenveen in the Eredivisie, the top tier of the Netherlands.

He is a dynamic winger who can play between the lines or outside, where his dribbling ability and creativity stands out in every zone of the field where he can be in contact with the ball. His explosiveness and unpredictability makes him a really exciting player.

His current value on Transfermarkt is €2,000,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

Before joining the big youth academy of Valerenga in 2014, where he developed as a young footballer until 2019, he was training at the academy of Hauketo IF. He made his professional debut with Valerenga, being a key part of them in the Eliteserien, especially last season.

SC Heerenveen signed him permanently for €1,700,000.

Percentile Rank vs LWs in Norway-Eliteserien-1| Data from Season 2022-23

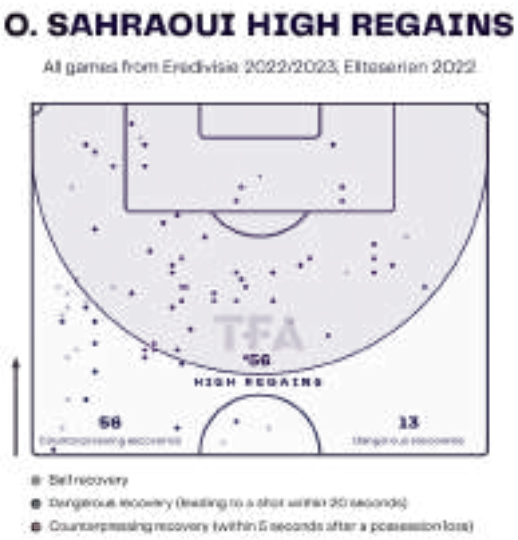
DEFENSIVE PHASE

Osame Sahraoui is an intense defensive player. In high pressing, he is a player who recognizes where to run and measures well how to use energy on certain occasions.

When his pressure line is overcome, he is active to come back and chase the opponent with the ball, exerting a counter-press after turnovers that is also very dynamic.

On the other hand, his discipline to help his teammate on the side is positive. He looks to avoid 2v1 situations against his teammate and can even drop down to the penalty area to offer support with a clearance.

Good technique and timing for his tackle, although a still-developing muscular physique.



ATTACKING PHASE

He is a dribbler by nature. Dynamic with and without the ball. When he releases the ball he offers intense moves to keep combining with his teammates.

He alternates between receiving to the foot and in space, but can move in-out and vice versa, thus dragging rival players and moving the rivals' lines, doing it with a lot of verticality to push them back and nearer to their goal.

He is also brave to receive in tight spaces, looking to appear between the lines where he later drives into the penalty area.

His dribbling technique is complex to defend. His low centre of gravity gives excellent elasticity to his hip which allows him to turn quickly. In static and running he has a high level of ball control. He has a range of solutions in small spaces of great variety. He mixes body gestures and fast bicycles with both feet or one foot, as well as steps and rolls the ball with futsal principles.

He has great intelligence to team up with teammates generating 1-2 combinations. However, he is a player who needs to understand when he should release the ball, after carrying he retains a lot and needs to get rid of it before. He possesses a great shot with both legs which makes him unpredictable for scoring, as well as for 1v1 duels.

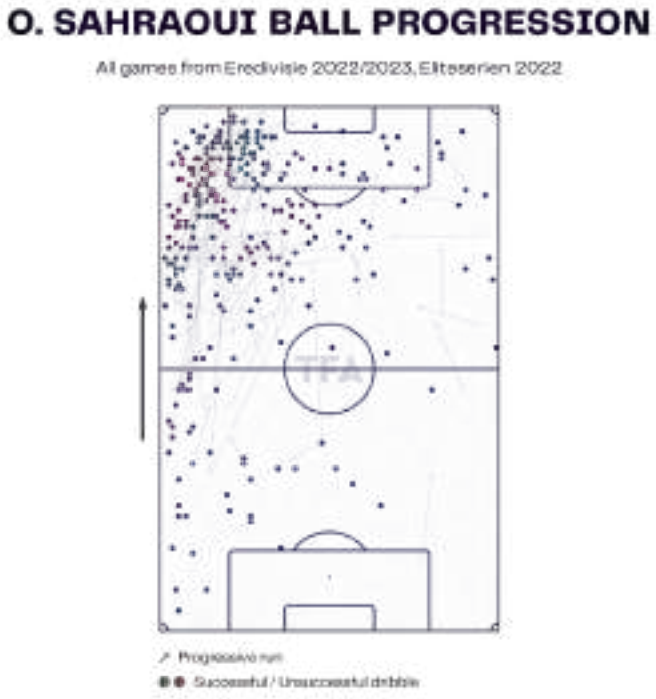
In the attacking transitions, he's very threatening with his runs to space. He goes from wide to the inside, running behind the defenders or mixing movements as well in the blind eye of the defenders, normally attacking the FB-CB spaces.

In the defensive transitions, he's energetic and dynamic to come back and run to rearm the block, as well as to follow rivals with the ball to tackle them. He is disciplined and committed to tracking back.



PHYSICAL PROFILE

He has a lean build, a low height of 170cm, and a lean lower body that needs to keep developing in musculature to be better in physical duels, as his lower body isn't that strong.

Nonetheless, he's a very energetic player with great stamina.

France Ligue 1

Monaco
- They need better wingers for next season, especially on the left-side of the attack.
- Sahraoui should fit their tactics.

Nice
- They will need to develop various areas of the team, including the wings as they don't create that much threat from the outside.

Lille
- They need better wingers with goal-scoring output and more threats from their dribbling and touches.
- Sahraoui fits their style.

Germany Bundesliga

Borussia Dortmund
- They have been lacking goals and threat creation from the left wing.
- Sahraoui can fit their playing style, being dynamic to move between the channels and to press.

Bayer Leverkusen
- They don't have much depth in the flanks.
- As Diaby could leave the next summer, they need to reinforce the wings with a big threat-creator like him, that goes from inside out and vice-versa, as well as being explosive with his dribbling.

Borussia Monchengladbach
- He could be a great signing in terms of turning the key in their attacking system, as many of the players aren't having a good season.
- He can fit their style with his explosive style.

ATTACKING PHASE

He is a midfielder with a high aesthetic and intelligence range in each of his executions. He has a great understanding of how to act off the ball for his team. He plays between the lines, activating different spaces on the field, even contributing on the outside where he offers excellent cross-execution with the correct weight and curve.

He is mobile when he has the ball and when he releases it, he looks to play with a teammate and then accompany. He has no problem going inside out or vice versa. When he has freedom his creativity is unstoppable. His left foot stands out above the rest. In tight spaces, he makes everything simpler. He uses cuts and changes his pace from micro to macro-runs, with various touches on the ball.

He handles both profiles, he doesn't feel uncomfortable on the right side with his left foot, and the skill and technique he has been very high. Top body gestures that allow him to evade and always create a better angle for passing or executing a cross/finish. Aggressive to activate the penalty area and get a shot like another striker, also patient and conscious to release balls with deep passes, either attacking the middle of the defence or to the outside, giving excellent balls to his wide teammates so that they can send dangerous crosses.

He coordinates the tempo and manages his team's possessions, even going down to the base of the play. An intelligent midfielder in each phase of his team's progression, who makes mature decisions accompanied by elegance and creativity to break through.

PLAYER PROFILE

Souffian El Karouani is a 22-year-old (19/10/2000) LB and LWB. He's left-footed.

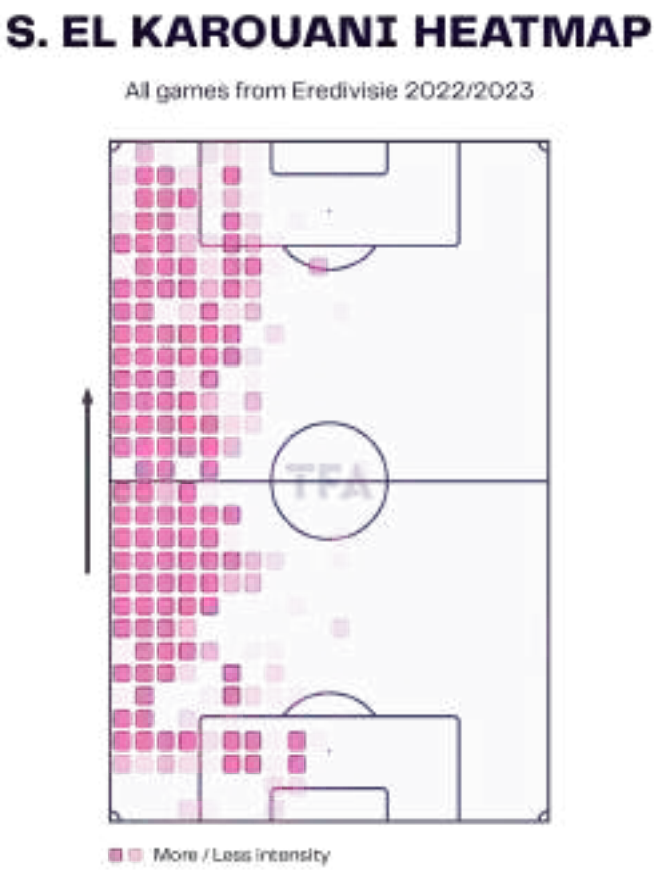
The Dutch-Moroccan is currently playing for NEC Nijmegen in the Eredivisie, Netherlands' top tier.

He is a player with a very good technical level to beat pressure and dynamise his team's attacks with passes in different areas of the pitch. He is very quick on the wing and can even get into the box as a finisher.

His current value on Transfermarkt is €900,000 and his contract expires in the summer of 2023.

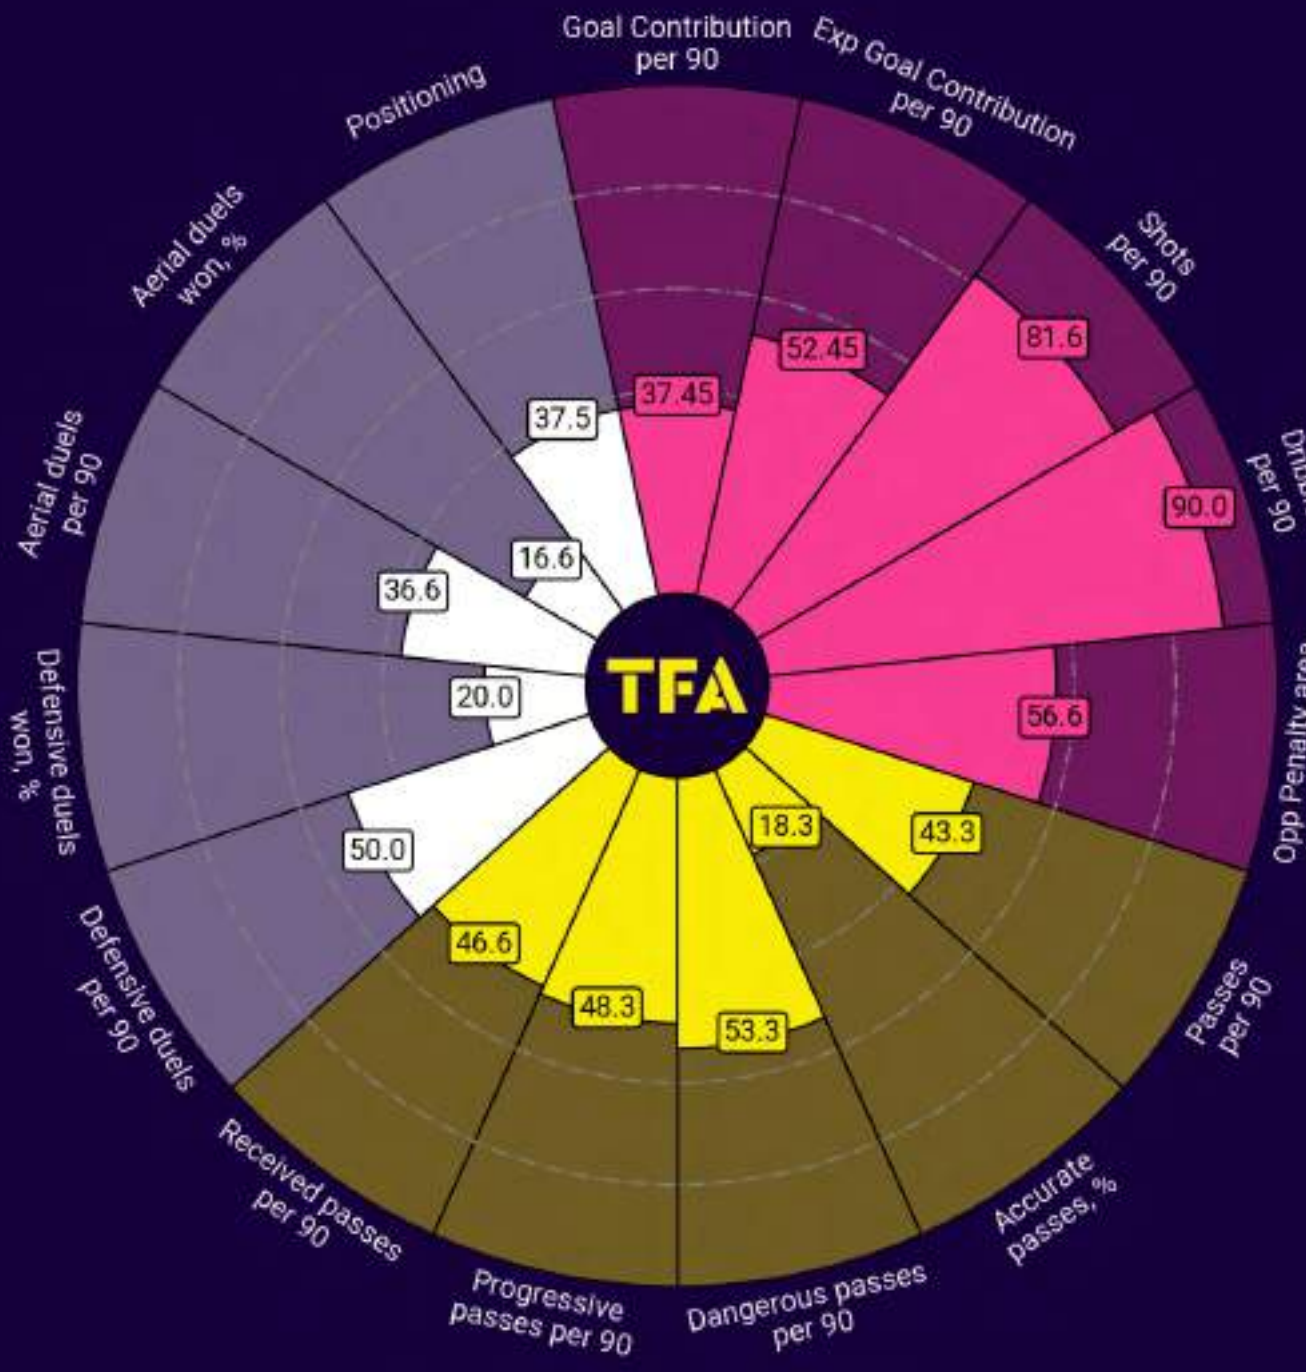
PLAYER HISTORY

After playing for several clubs in his childhood, Souffian El Karouani was signed by the youth teams of NEC Nijmegen, where he completed his development and made it to the first team, becoming one of the most interesting and promising players in the current squad.



S. El Karouani | LB | 2087 minutes played

NEC | 22-years-old | Season 2022-23



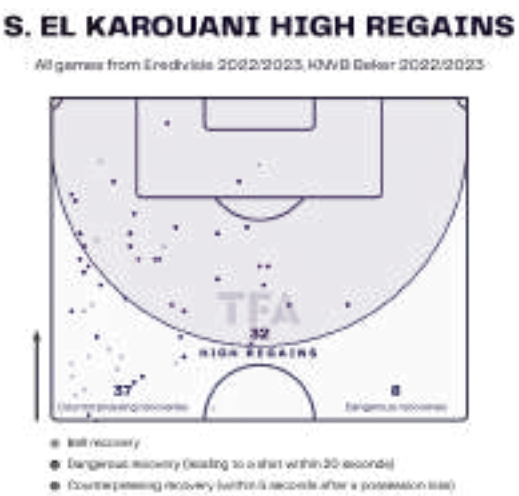
Percentile Rank vs LBs in Netherlands-Eredivisie-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Souffian El Karouani is a player who stands out for his speed and this is something that leads him to be very aggressive in the defensive phase of the game. He often looks to anticipate his opponents and, if he is beaten, he can correct his mistakes through the speed of his runs. He is therefore a very interesting player for teams looking to press high.

He is a physically compact player who can win several duels through physical contact. He knows very well how to displace his opponents off the ball, as his height and low centre of gravity allow him to be stable.

Karouani has good positioning in 1v1, is a difficult player to beat, and is clever at tracking opponents or closing down in the box after crosses from the opposite wing.



ATTACKING PHASE

Souffian El Karouani is a LB and LWB who has a wide variety of offensive attributes that are highly developed at present. He is a player who has excellent technique to control and pass in a variety of situations, being especially good at breaking pressure in tight spaces.

He is very comfortable playing wide on the wing but has the intelligence to appear inside between the lines and dynamise his team's attacks from there. His agility allows him to control and pass in very little time, so whenever he has teammates close to him he can progress through short combinations in which he then looks to attack the free spaces.

His ball striking is very good. He is a player who can execute various types of crosses while on the move and also takes advantage of his arrivals in the box to finish on many occasions. His shots are powerful and generally well-aimed.

He is an ideal player for teams that prioritise width when attacking.

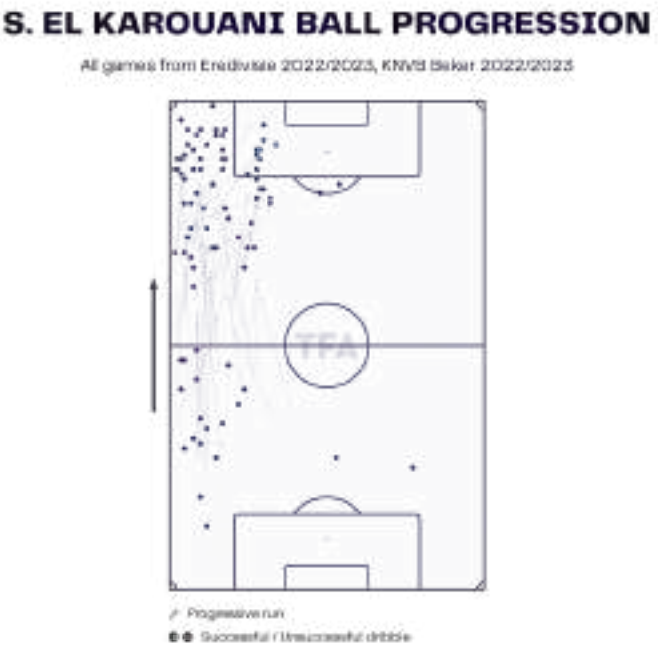
TRANSITIONS

In the attacking transitions, Souffian El Karouani is a player who excels in attacking space and carrying the ball. However, he also makes good passes to teammates running behind the defensive line and can get into the box as a finisher.

He has a wide range of resources to energise his team's recoveries.

In the defensive transitions, El Karouani is an intense player and usually looks to counter-press to win the ball back.



PHYSICAL PROFILE

Souffian El Karouani is left-footed, listed at 178cm.

He is a very quick player with a lot of agility, which makes it possible for him to be very technical on the ball. In addition, although he is not very strong, he has good posture for duels and is stable in the face of physical contact.

He is a player with a high level of intensity and very good energy management for multiple efforts throughout the game.

AHMET MUHAMEDBEGOVIC

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM

Ahmet is a LWB who excels in all phases of the game. He is a player who is dominant in possession, with a very advanced passing range, resistance under pressure and the capacity to make the back decisive in order for his team to progress in their attacks.

In defence, he is a player capable of adapting to a variety of roles, but particularly a wide, as seems looking to press high. He is quick to make long movements and anticipate or intercept. He has good potential on to be precise on his interventions.

The level Ahmet Muhamedbegovic has remained is enough for a big move in his career. He is a centre-back who could reach Tier 1 leagues in the short term and could continue to develop his game. However, this way he has developed his attributes he is capable of adapting to much more demanding contexts.

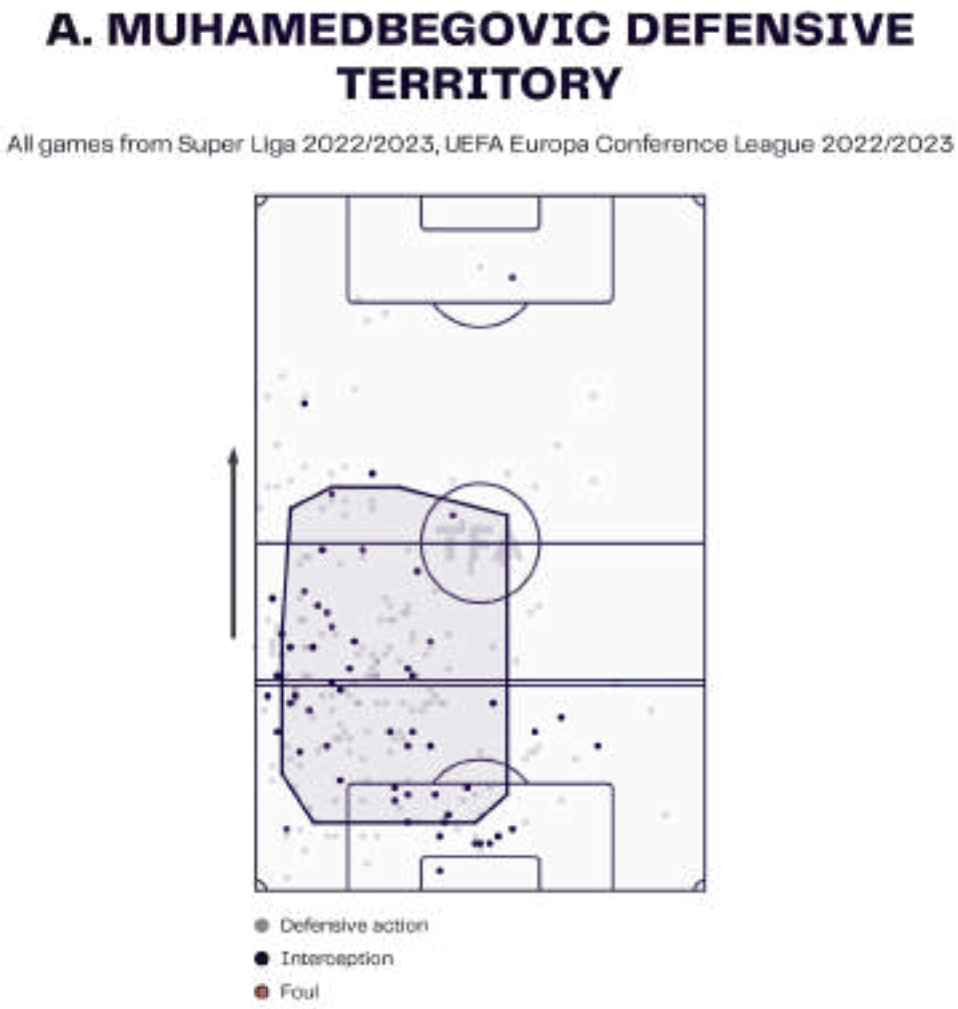
DEFENSIVE PHASE

Ahmet Muhamedbegovic is a CB who transmits security in the defensive phase. This is because he is a very accurate player anticipating and intercepting in different areas. He has a very wide range of actions that allows him to defend in many different situations.

He has a very good aerial game. His jumping is powerful and his heading is good to pass the ball or direct it to the most favourable areas for his team.

He is a stable player in duels and adopts good body postures to steal the ball or stop his opponents with physical contact.

His defence of the box is quite good at adjusting distances to intercept crosses.



ATTACKING PHASE

Ahmet Muhamedbegovic is an LCB with highly developed offensive attributes. He has a very advanced passing range for his position; he is very resistant to pressure and dominates a wide variety of passes to connect with players in different areas. He is very adept at generating team progression from the first phase of build-up.

In addition, he has a very positive technical level to control and carry the ball.

His positioning is often good enough to offer options to restart the play and also to attack space behind the opposition front line when he can.

He is a very mature player with intelligent decision-making. This allows him to have a lot of actions per game and to be accurate in the vast majority of them.

TRANSITIONS

In attacking transitions, Muhamedbegovic is a very useful player through his variety of passing. He can generate counter-attacks through tense passes into space or break through opposition pressure lines by quickly spotting players between the lines or unmarked.

He is a quick decision-maker, as he has good scanning of his surroundings and this allows him to make plays more dynamic frequently.

In defensive transitions, Muhamedbegovic is an aggressive player in anticipating and intercepting passes several metres out of his zone. He is quick to move and very accurate in his interpretation.

However, he is clever at temporising and reducing the chances of the ball holder.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Muhamedbegovic is a tall player (186cm) with an strong frame and developed musculature. He maintains an ideal mix of strength-agility, so he can make long movements in a short time to defend in different areas.

He has a lot of power in his lower body to elevate his jump and be solid in the air. In addition, his body tension is ideal for displacing opponents in duels and physical contact.

Attacking Possession Defending

Percentile Rank vs CFs in Czech Republic-Fortuna Liga-1| Data from Season 2021-22

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Yira is not a physical fighter, so in the defensive phase, his speed is much more useful. As a side midfielder, he supports the side defender, creating a numerical advantage in the side sector. He is relentless and fights for the ball to the end in a physical duel.

As a striker, he remains the team's most advanced player awaiting a counter-attack.

ATTACKING PHASE

Yira is positioned as a winger in a 1-4-3-3 or 1-4-4-2 formation. He can also play as a second striker.

He likes to penetrate the box from the edge of the box and then runs into the box with a quick sprint from the right side, looking for a short pass to the striker.

When playing as a second striker, he looks for space in front of the penalty area, so that when he receives the ball, he takes it into the penalty area or makes a quick, powerful, measured shot at the post.

TRANSITIONS

Yira is a player who prefers to play in a large area when he has the ability to rally with the ball. It feels most effective when it is near the right side.

Therefore, in the transition phase, he often holds his position, waiting to receive the ball from his partners and make a quick rally. Yira doesn't dribble much. His matches are usually running, or using a partner to play from the first ball.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Yira is 174 cm. He is a right-footed player with great speed capabilities. He is agile and mobile. e feels best when he has a lot of space and the ability to make a long run with the ball.

Zan Vipotnik is a young striker who demonstrated good mobility and a very good end product. He shows good movement to drop deep to link up play but was not very effective with his hold-up play. He plays with a clear aim to score and constantly looks to make runs and spaces behind the backline. He can time his runs well and also showed a good goalscoring instinct to move into scoring positions. He demonstrated good finishing abilities in the games observed and can strike the ball with good power.

He was effective in the defensive transitions and uses his pace well to press the opponents. He showed a good desire to win the ball. The 20-year-old looks like a promising player.

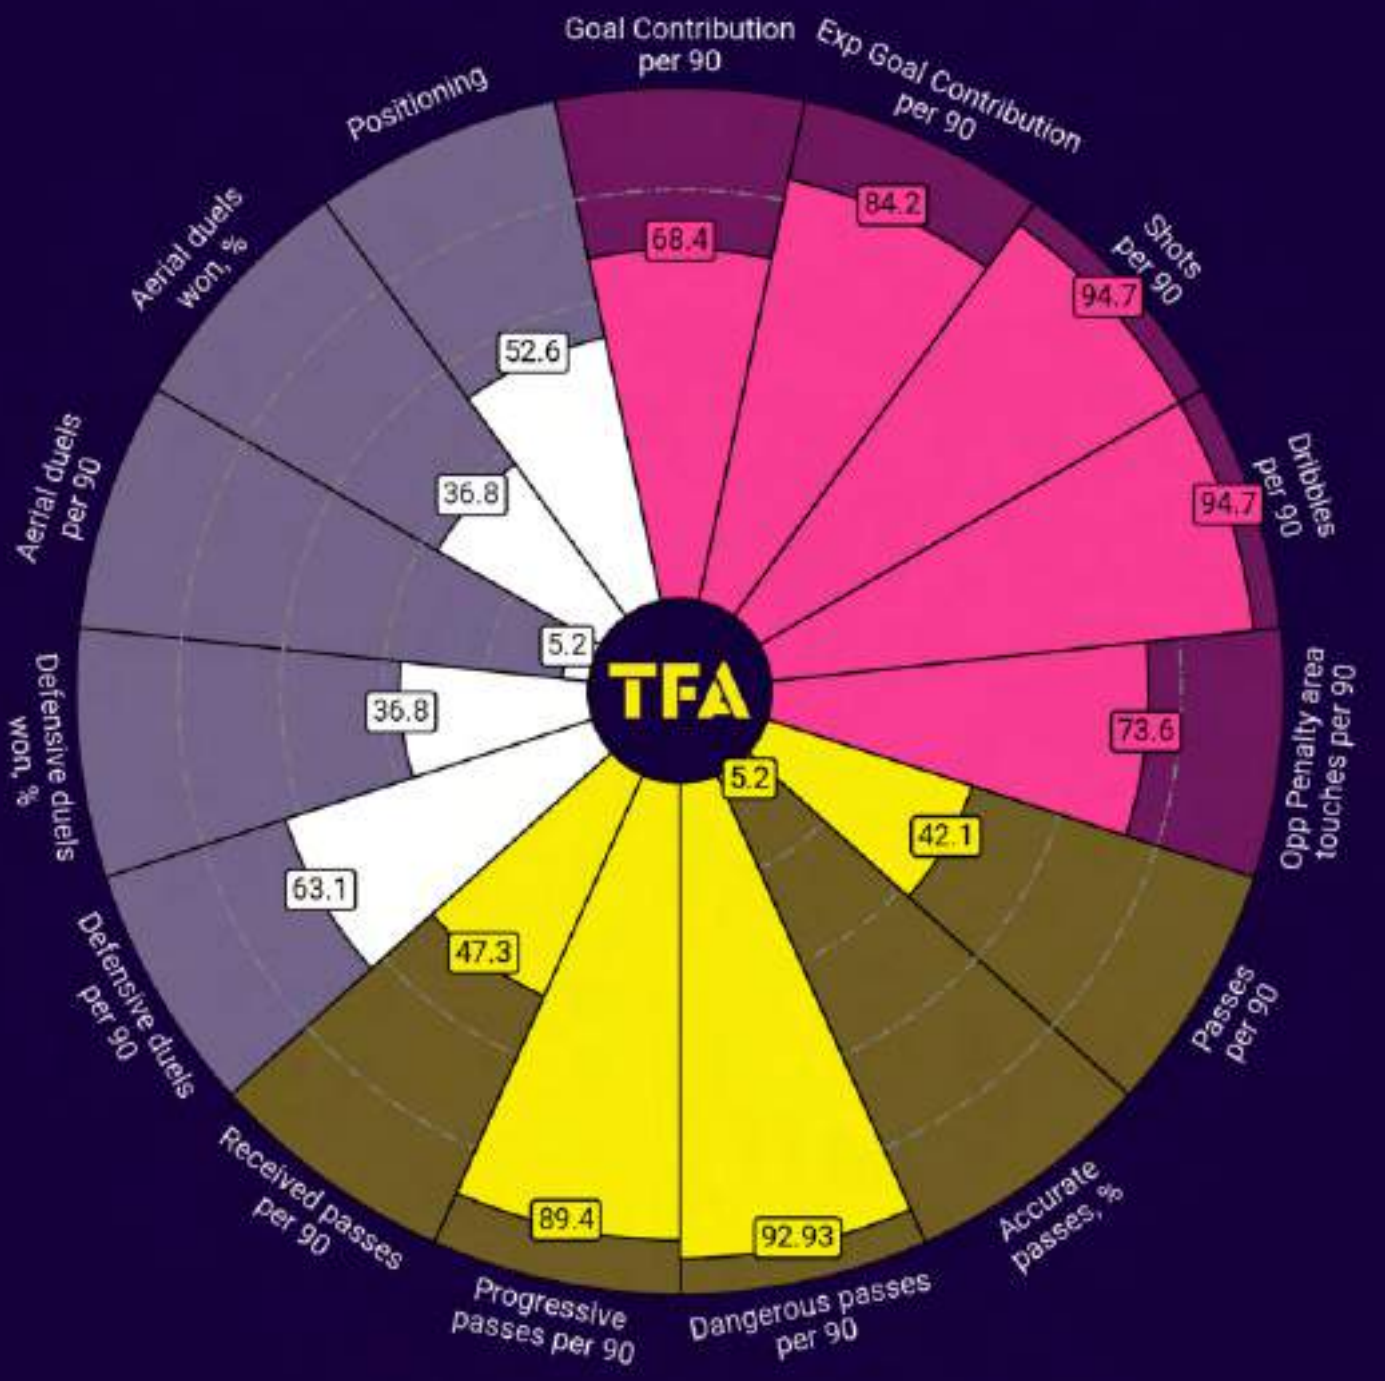
Zagłębie Lubin | 22-years-old | Season 2022-23



Attacking Possession Defending

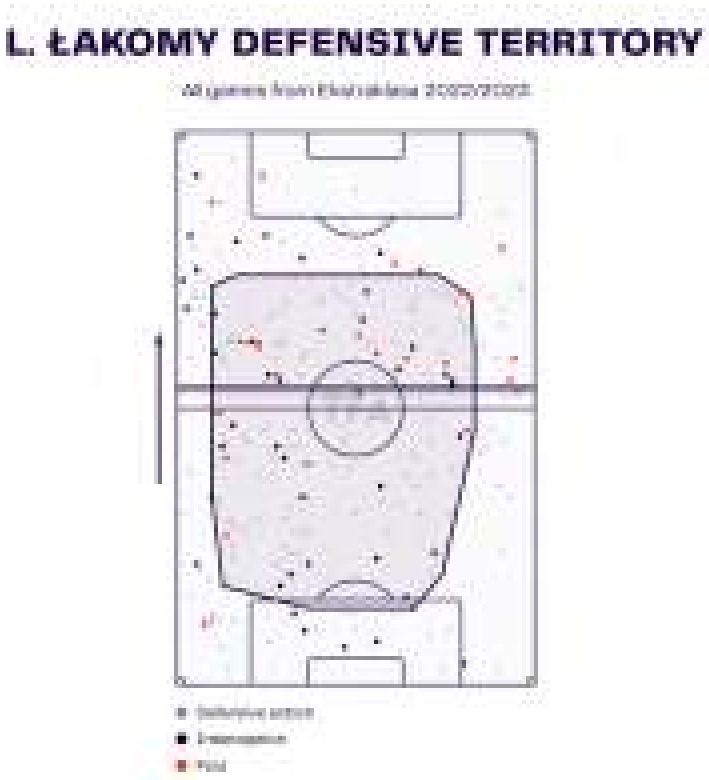
Percentile Rank vs LDMs in Poland-Ekstraklasa-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Lukasz Lakomy tries to follow the game after the ball. He reads the game skillfully and is focused mainly on defensive play and skilful transfer of the ball in the transitional phase.

When the opponent's action takes place 20-30 meters from his own goal, he tries to take a skilful position in the middle of the field to limit the possibility of a perpendicular pass between defenders. Lakomy does this very well.

When the ball is moved by the rival to the wing, Lakomy takes a place in the defence to limit the possibility of an effective cross to the opponent's striker.



ATTACKING PHASE

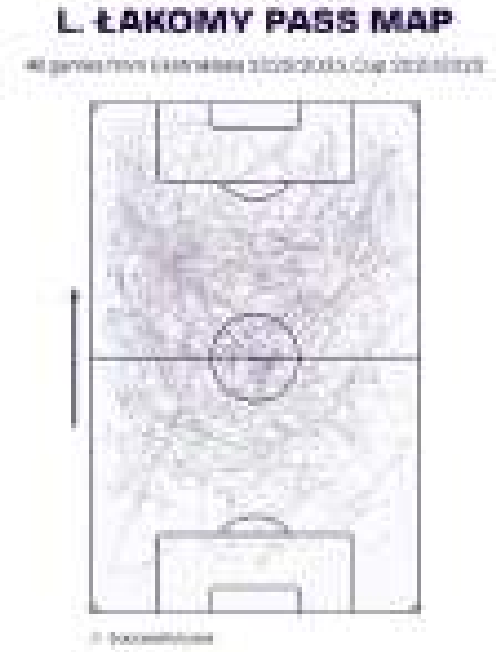
Lakomy is a talented midfield player who resembles Steven Gerrard in his style of play.

He rarely participates in the offensive phase, because his primary goal in the game is to play the ball and effectively initiate the transition phase.

He is a player who rarely engages in the offensive phase and when he does, he usually initiates the offensive action through a cross from the deep of the field or a shot from distance.

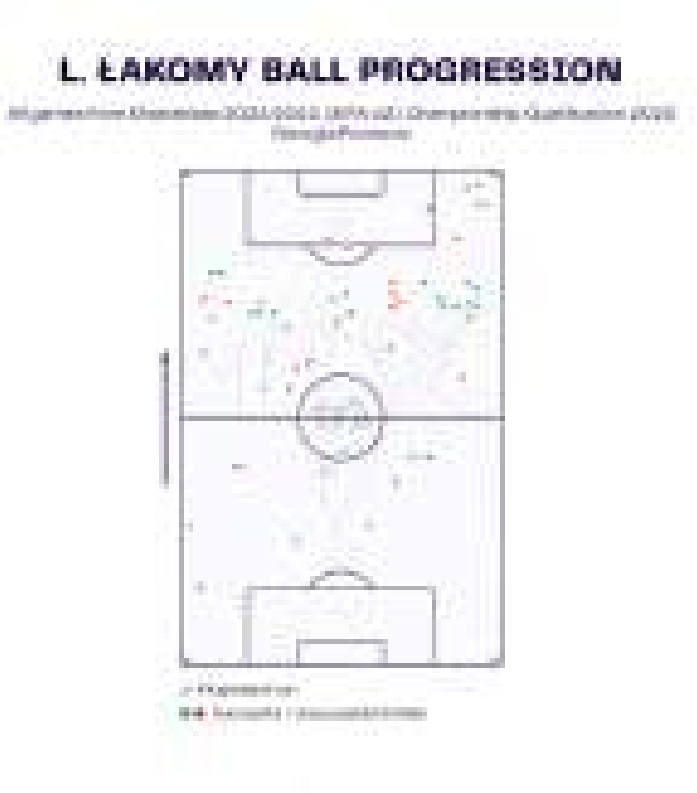
His passes are very strong and accurate, and the receiver is mainly a winger or a fast striker participating in the counter-attack.

The player usually moves in the offensive phase in the space of 20-30 meters from the rival's goal, being focused on a possible shot from a distance.



TRANSITIONS

Lukasz Lakomy moves in the space between his team's penalty area and the rival's penalty area, skilfully securing sectors in the middle of the field.



When receiving the ball from his team, Łakomy takes the space in front of his own penalty area, waiting for the central defenders to receive the ball, or securing the space against the opponent's perpendicular pass.

Lakomy, after recovering the ball for his team, usually chooses two solutions:

If he is in front of his own penalty area, he tries to transfer the game to a better-positioned partner with a short pass from the first ball.

If a player sees a well-positioned partner in the upper sector of the game, he makes a long cross pass to the winger.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Lukasz Lakomy is of medium height. He is 181 cm. He is a football player of normal build with good muscles.

Lakomy plays very well with his body. Effectively receives the ball with close duels.

He is also a player who performs passes with both the right and left foot with high efficiency.

Eduard Sarapiy is a physically astute defender who was a rock at the back for his side. He does look capable of getting on the ball under pressure and was secure with his efforts to pick out a teammate at the back. He also showcased an excellent long passing range, often distributing possession and picking out the runs of teammates into the final third. He can be a threat during set pieces and used his height well to tower over his man.

- Sarapiy was excellent when it came to his defensive duties as well and seemed capable of covering the entire line. He made some solid tackles while also looking dependable during his 1v1 duels. DEFENSIVE PHASE

Sarapiy was solid with his overall defensive efforts and looked to cover a large area of the pitch. He was competent with his 1v1 duels and often does an excellent job of restricting his man when turning away.

Sarapiy also seemed composed when facing opposition movement inside his box and stood his ground well against quicker opponents, while also putting a foot in when needed. He made a healthy number of blocks and interceptions in the area as well and seemed to be a dependable figure.

He showed a strong sense of awareness and managed to effectively use this during the side's transitions. He was capable of picking out the run of a teammate from deep while also seeming alert of opposition runners.

Sarapiy also does well to provide cover for his teammates at the back and was eager to shift into vacant spaces in the area when facing opposition attacks. He was also aware enough to mark different opponents accordingly and handles almost everything the opposition threw at him.

ATTACKING PHASE

Sarapiy stuck to playing simple passes at the back and seemed to be very secure when doing so. He rarely put his teammates under pressure when playing these passes and looked composed when having to get on the ball under pressure.

However, Sarapiy never really looked capable of playing out from the back and failed to put the right pace on his pace that would help to build up attacking momentum from deep. Despite this, he showcased a solid long passing range and managed to pick out teammates.

Sarapiy almost never tried to carry possession forward on his own and looked more adept at passing the ball out. He did look competent when moving the ball under pressure but never really looked to take on opponents inside his half.

Standing at a fairly solid height of 186cm, Sarapiy was a competent figure during the side's set pieces as he constantly looked to rise over his marker when inside the opposition box. He does well to time his leaps and often managed to make clean contact with the ball while also looking capable of hitting the target from range.

TRANSITIONS

Sarapiy was a silent yet vital part of the side's offensive transitions and looked to be the first person to get on the ball during these phases. He was secure with his passes to retain possession during such transitions while also looking eager to create passing outlets for the team.

He also showcased an excellent long passing range that helped to both distribute possession into the flanks during counterattacks and pick out the run of a teammate with overhead balls into the final third.

Sarapiy took up strong positions during the side's defensive transitions and often looked to move into vacant spaces when facing opposition attacks. He did seem capable of stepping off his line to make challenges, while also looking diligent when having to track back.

Sarapiy was not the quickest but showcased a decent recovery pace using his long strides, while also looking to cover the wider areas of the pitch. He made some strong tackles and managed to win back possession cleanly.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Sarapiy put his height to good use and often managed to intercept most of the aerial balls that were playing into his area. He also showcased a strong leap when going into aerial duels and managed to easily outleap his man while also putting a decent length on his headed clearances.

He possessed a muscular build and an athletic frame to go along with it which aided his mobility on the pitch. He was able to cover large areas of the pitch with ease and showcased a good sense of positioning.

Sarapiy was not very quick but did look formidable during his recovery run, largely due to his long strides and excellent positioning. He was very strong however and showcased good physical grit when doing into a duel.

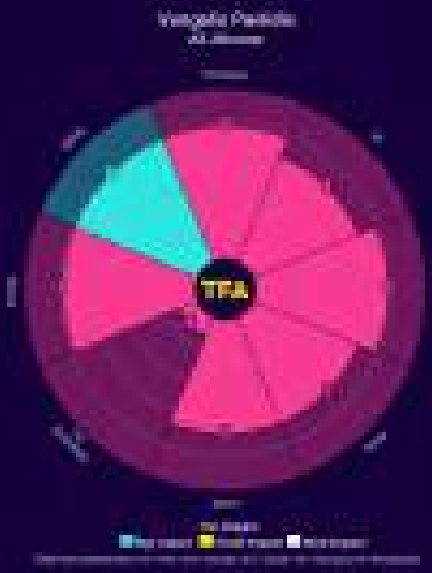
SCOUT REPORT

VANGELIS PAVLIDIS

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM



Vangelis Pavlidis is a well rounded striker who looks like he is capable of scoring on a consistent basis. He also has the technical skillset required to create chances for his teammates, while also looking like a decent dribbler. Pavlidis also does well to contribute to the side's counter pressing strategies by quickly closing down opponents higher up the pitch, while also managing to rack one tall away.

Pavlidis is an excellent option for any side looking for a high intensity pressing forward and has the talent to move into a more demanding league.

PLAYER PROFILE

Vangelis Pavlidis is a 24-year-old Greek striker who is currently playing for AZ Alkmaar in the Eredivisie, the top tier in the Netherlands.

He was ambidextrous and looked comfortable using both his feet. He also looked capable of playing as a left winger or an attacking midfielder. Pavlidis is a current full Greek international.

Pavlidis has a current market value of €7,500,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

Pavlidis is a product of the Vfl Bochum academy, having come up through their ranks. He then had a loan stint with B. Dortmund II before moving to Willem II in the 19/20 season. He was then picked up by AZ in the 21/22 campaign.

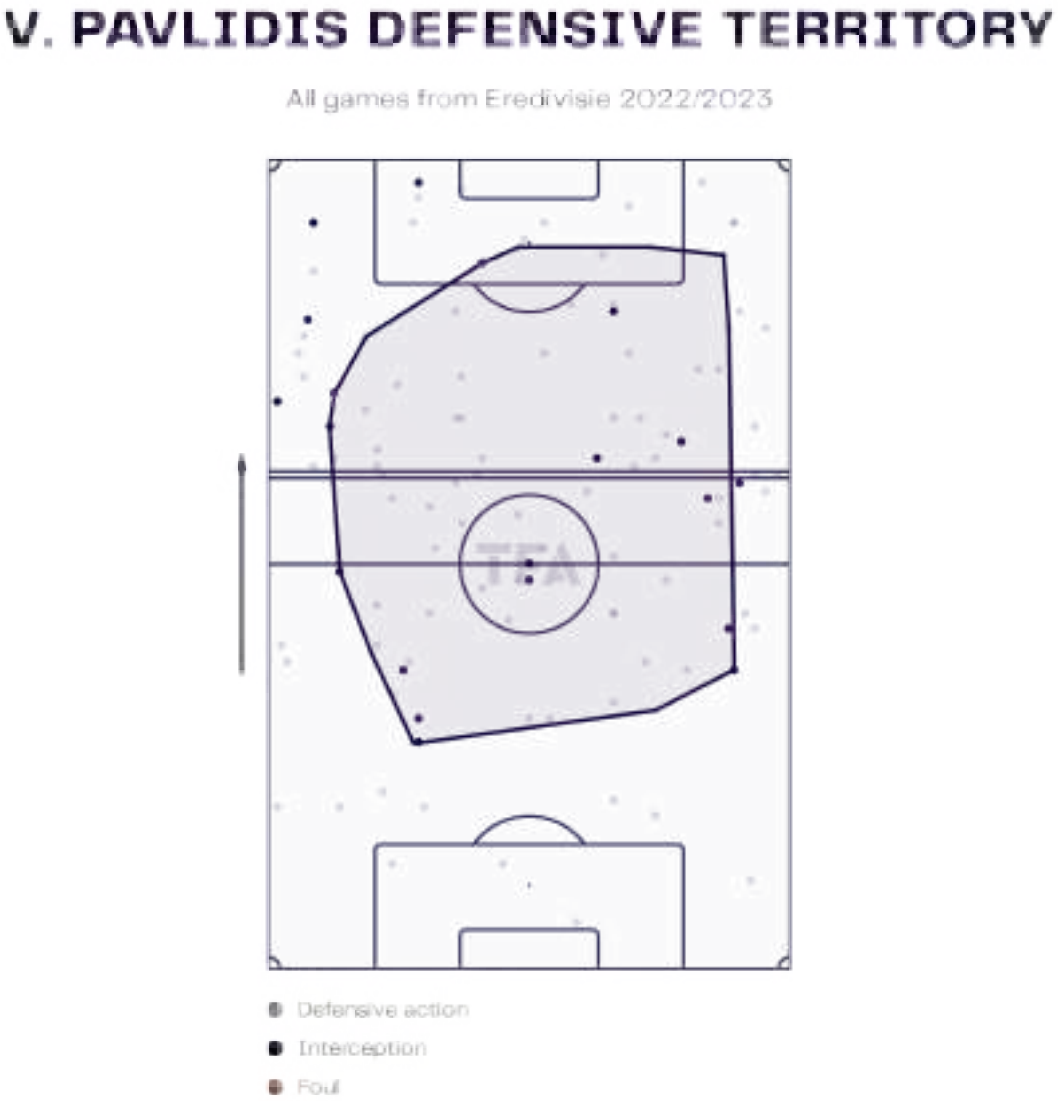
DEFENSIVE PHASE

Pavlidis did seem to restrict most of his defensive actions to within the opposition half and seemed to be more prominent when inside the final third. He rarely tracked back and looked to hold a high line instead, often trying to press opposition players inside their half.

Pavlidis was excellent when it came to his press and showcased a solid level of intensity here. He was quick to close down opposition defenders when trying to play out from the back and made some excellent interceptions in the process, while also managing to convert these into goal-scoring chances for the side.



ATTACKING PHASE

Pavlidis was a prolific goal scorer and constantly looked to finish off the chances that came his way. He often used his first touch to set up the shot and looked to possess a variety of finishes in his arsenal. He made some excellent late runs into the box while also looking capable of creating space for himself in tighter areas.

Pavlidis had a knack to get into vacant spaces and lose his marker when on the move as this helped him to constantly get into threatening areas. He also showcased good awareness to set up teammates with simple cutback or quick reverse passes in the area.

He was a decent dribbler and used his agile nature to beat his first marker. Despite this, Pavlidis does need to do a better job of carrying possession forward as he showed a tendency to lose it soon. Pavlidis does shield the ball well though and drew in some solid freekicks in the process.

Pavlidis looked to be often stationed in a two-man system and had the positional awareness to constantly switch with his partner, thus making it hard to mark them upfront. He also drifted wide now and then but never seemed to be very prolific when doing so.

TRANSITIONS

Pavlidis was a lively figure during the side's offence and his off-ball movement enabled the side to quickly play the ball forward here. He also seemed capable of carrying possession forward on his own and does well to link up play with his teammates inside the final third when needed. He also does well holding up possession when needed and does an excellent job of retaining the ball here.

Pavlidis also looked to be heavily involved during their defensive transitions and does well to press in a high line. He was energetic when closing down opponents and managed to nick the ball away multiple times in the process.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Standing at a fairly solid height of 186cm, Pavlidis was strong in the air and showcased this during the side's set pieces. However, he can still do a better job of timing his jumps when going into heading a delivery.

Pavlidis seemed to possess a lean physique but does look strong when on the ball. He also managed to shrug off pressure with ease and had the body balance to stay on his feet here.

Pavlidis did showcase good bursts of pace but seemed to be more reliant on his agile frame when carrying the ball. He also has an excellent reserve of energy and stamina that helped to play at a high-intensity level across an entire game.

PLAYER PROFILE

Sacha Boey is a 22-year-old French defender who plays Galatasaray in the Turkish Super league.

He is right-footed and plays as a Right Back.

His current value according to Transfermarket is €6,500,000.

PLAYER HISTORY

Boey (born September 13, 2000) is a Rennes youth product and moved to Galatasaray from Rennes in 2021. He is contracted until June, 2025.

He has played international football for France at the youth levels.

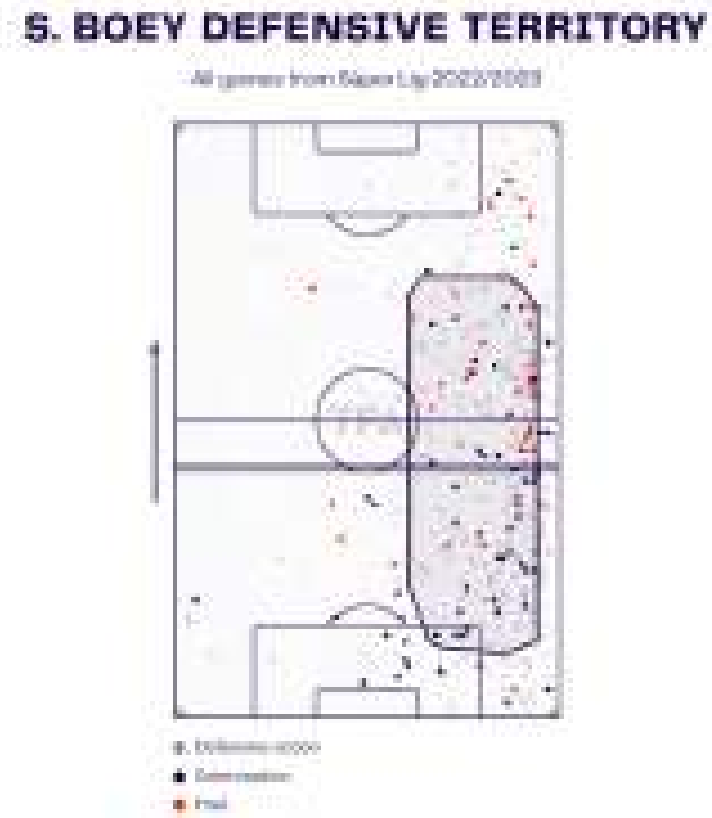
Percentile Rank vs RBs in Turkey-Super Lig-1| Data from Season 2022-23

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Excellent in the defensive phases, Boey was mature and confident in his abilities and held onto a solid base for his tackles. He was very solid with his tackles in 1v1 situations and rushed out to intercept the ball constantly.

He is as aggressive with the duels and high success rate, irrespective of ground or aerial duels. He was good at shutting out the opponent whenever he chose to drive at him, and also positioned himself to deal with high crosses at the far post. He was aware of late runners into the box and showed good defensive technique.

He marked opponents tightly and defended set pieces with conviction.



ATTACKING PHASE

Boey is a constant support in the build-up phases, offering himself on the wide right and showing a good first touch to match his ball control. He always looked to move the ball away from the opponent with his touch and succeeded often.

As he progressed towards the advanced zones, he continuously supported the attack, although with a low overlapping frequency but constantly provided a passing option and overloading the right flank. He played through balls down the flank and played several inballs as well at fast speed into the feet of the striker.

Although his crosses weren't mostly with a high trajectory towards the 6-yard box, he preferred to drive towards the byline and cut back more often. Most of his crosses while entering the offensive third were driven low, and he also looked to drive infield with the ball.

TRANSITIONS

In the attacking transitions, Boey makes quick offensive runs and quickly moves to an advanced area. He likes to exchange a quick pass and then move without the ball when receiving the ball in a deep area. In slightly advanced areas, he directly looks to play a down-the-line pass behind the defensive line.

In defensive transitions, he was extremely quick to counterpress and singled out the opponent in a 1v1 situation. He was intelligent with his pressing, as he often closed down angles for passes.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Boey has a height of 178cm and a lean athletic physique.

He showed good speed with or without the ball and was quick to react to a loose ball or change of possession.

He is athletic and shows the strength to shrug wingers off and dominate them. Also shows good energy levels for constant movement.

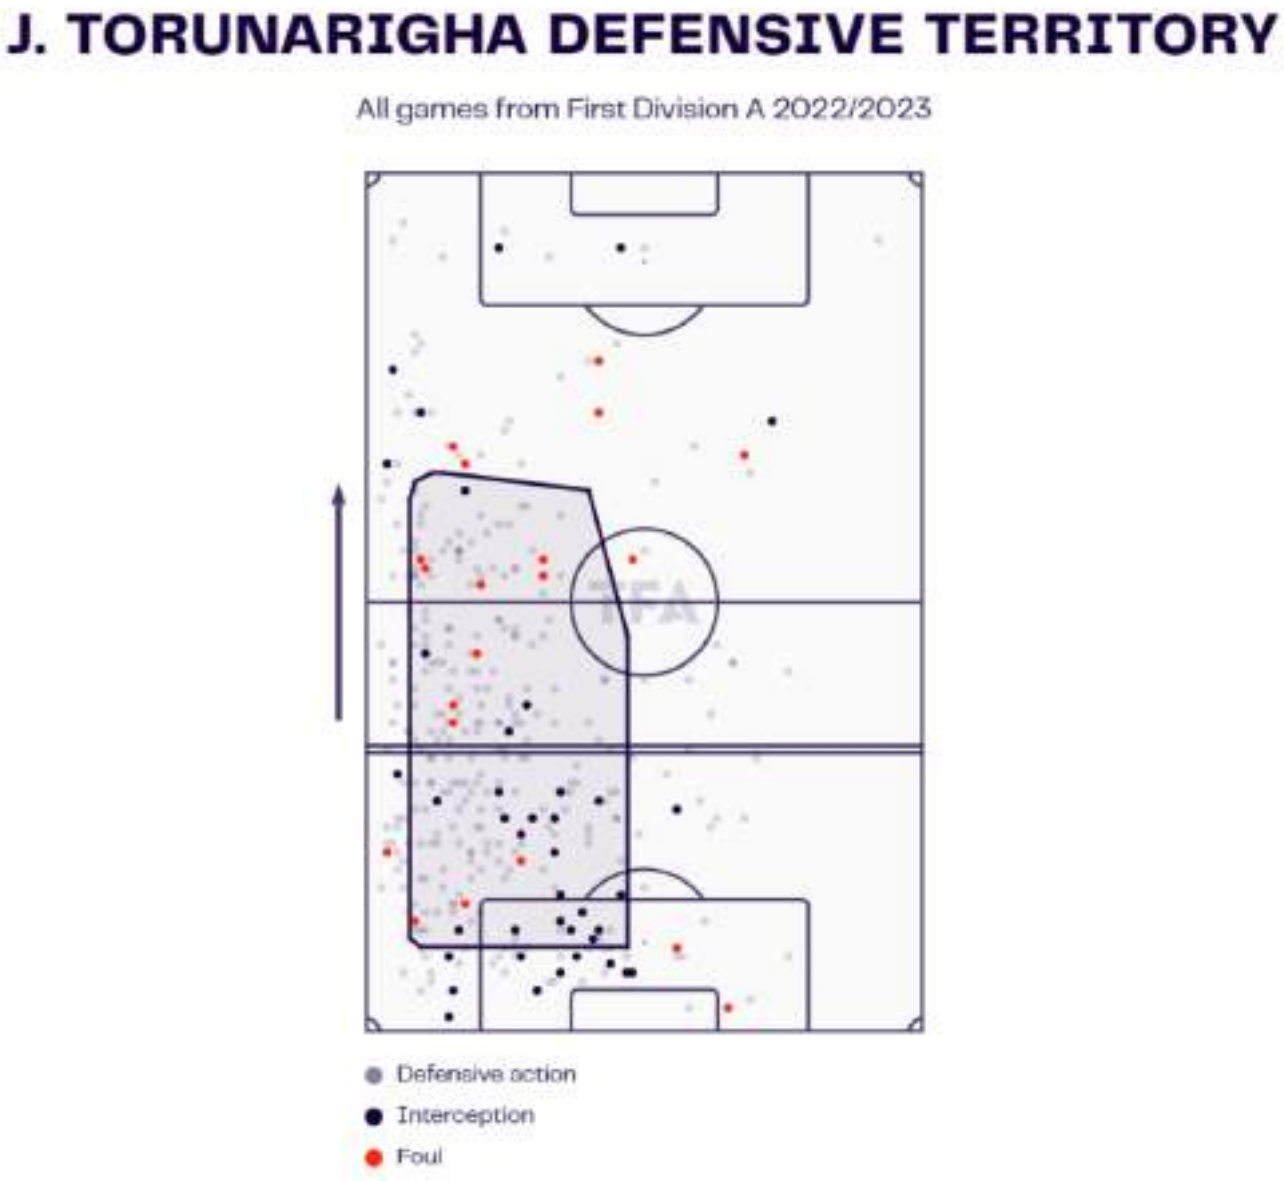
DEFENSIVE PHASE

Defensively, Torunarigha showed a solid positional sense and intercepted a number of through balls and crosses in the defensive third. He was quick to judge situations and reacted quickly and looked to dominate opponents with his combination of strength and speed.

He was confident while defending crosses and won most aerial duels. He was strong with his challenges and did not hesitate to put in tackles in the defensive third. He was a strong stand tackler and looked to shoulder opponents off the ball in 1v1 situations.

He is aware of the space behind the defence and is quick to rush out and cover for the LB or CB. Overall, he shows solid defensive ability and judgement.



ATTACKING PHASE

Torunarigha is a confident ball player, who has a limited passing range but distributes the ball well within that range. He shows good intensity in attack and does not panic when put under pressure, instead uses his body well to shield the ball.

He looks to move forward with the ball whenever he sees space ahead of him and looks to pass the ball forward. Playing as a LCB in a back three, he played some balls down the line and some good line-breaking passes almost from a LB's position during build-up. Also showed good movement to show himself constantly as a passing option.

There were occasions when he ran into space with the ball and unleashed long-distance shots. However, he struggled to keep these on target. He was a threat from set pieces and showed strong aerial prowess.

TRANSITIONS

In attacking transitions, Torunarigha generally released the ball quickly, mostly with chipped passes towards the left flank. He wasn't able to play long diagonal passes even if space was available. He was good at running with the ball a few paces if there was space in front of him.

In defensive transitions, he was extremely dominant and aggressive. He rushed out to the wide areas to break counterattacks and recovered a number of balls. He shows good speed and dominates physically in transitions.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Torunarigha has a height of 191 cm and an athletic physique.

As already mentioned, he has good pace and the ability to accelerate quickly to defend the space behind him.

Also, his jumping power and aerial prowess are good, along with his strength.

He shows decent energy levels and is left-footed.

DEFENSIVE PHASE

Moyano constantly attempts to contest the ball or impede passing routes during the defensive portion of the game.

He chases after the ball immediately and makes excellent tackles when he loses the ball. Moyano consistently puts his body on the line to battle for the ball. He challenges opponents that are considerably bigger than him.

With his all-action game style, he can make excellent tackles and strives to shut the pocket areas that are opening up.

He works hard and can provide enough for the team to win the game.

ATTACKING PHASE

Moyano is an excellent defensive midfielder with exceptional dribbling abilities. He is the team's energy source and the foundation upon which units are constructed.

Moyano is adept at making fast short passes and accurate long passes to his teammates. However, he loves to keep things straightforward and would instead offer fewer Hollywood passes than more.

Getting him off the ball is challenging because of his close-control dribbling. Although he does not provide a goal or an assist, he enjoys working for it in the centre of the field. Although he is not a strong ball presser, his deft positioning and mobility allow him to do well in the middle. In addition, he always tries to find his midfield partners with his passing.

Moyano can be an excellent holding midfielder who manages the game's speed and accomplishes just enough in the middle of the park.

TRANSITIONS

Moyano is a challenging player to pass the ball to. However, he can repel most opponents due to his physical presence.

He relentlessly engages opponents, and there is no element of fear in his performance. Additionally, he is fearless in facing a battle for the ball while controlling it.

When he loses control, he works rapidly to regain it and return to his original position. He can manage games from the middle of the field and has a great first touch.

Moyano poses a threat to the opponent because of his accurate passing. In addition, he is capable of playing at a high intensity.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Moyano has a height of 171 cm and plays with the most physical impact possible with his miniature stature.

He is physically capable of controlling the midfield on his own, and he is capable of competing with the majority of opponents. Furthermore, Moyano has the stamina and motivation to hold down the middle of the field for the whole game.

Moyano is a highly mobile player who can do well in central areas with high mobility and excellent game reading.

JHON ARIAS

MAR 2023

TOTALFOOTBALLANALYSIS.COM

Jhon Arias. The 65 goal contributing midfielder is versatile enough to play in different positions. He can comfortably play as a left midfielder. He has a solid passing range and polished set piece takers and patient short passes.

He can make a excellent short passer and can make decent long balls.

Due to his experience and level of play, Jhon Arias could be a sensible mid-level signing for this Tier 1 team in the long term.

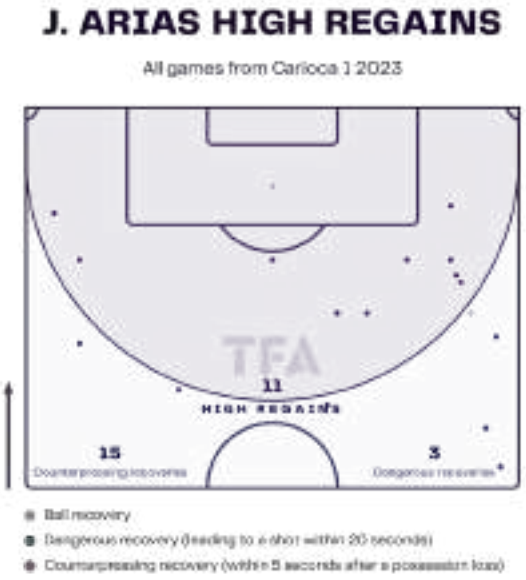
DEFENSIVE PHASE

Arias participates in the game's defensive phase very seldom, most of the time. On the other hand, he is reliable in his tackles and moves quickly to recover the ball if he loses it. Arias is willing to put his safety in danger, even though he does not constantly battle for possession of the ball. As a direct consequence of this, he fights more often with his adversaries.

His all-action playing style allows him to make solid tackles, and he works hard to close any pockets opening up in the opposing defence. As a result, Arias can mount a few challenges directly, even though his defensive work rate might be improved.



ATTACKING PHASE

Arias is a fantastic midfielder with great ball control and excellent dribbling abilities. In addition to that, he brings a lot of flair and uniqueness to the middle of the field.

Arias can make accurate long and fast short passes to his teammates, but he still has to improve his accuracy and the results of his passes. Nevertheless, he enjoys keeping everything simple and is always happy to provide more free passes. In addition, he always tries to find his forward players with his passes.

Because of his close-control dribbling, winning possession of the ball from him might be challenging. On the other hand, he takes pleasure in moving closer to the target in the middle of the field. His clever positioning and agility enable him to perform effectively in the centre, even though he could be a more powerful ball presser.

TRANSITIONS

Transferring the ball to Arias is relatively easy since he is a good player. He moves swiftly and with an impressive degree of agility.

Since there is no fear in his game, he often confronts opponents. In addition, he has no fear when engaging in a struggle for control of the ball when he owns it.

Once he loses possession, Arias quickly regains his position. He possesses a great first touch and can take control of games from the centre of the field.

Arias's outstanding passing accuracy is a challenge for the opponent. This makes Arias a potential menace. In addition, he can take part in high-intensity and high-energy games, although he demands more significant defensive effort from his teammates.

PHYSICAL PROFILE

Arias, with a height of 168 cm, is very weak in aerial duels.

He needs help to control the midfield and hold his own against most opponents. In addition, Arias possesses the stamina and motivation to hold down the midfield for the whole game.

Arias can perform well with his positioning and comprehension of the task since he is highly agile, moves quickly, and accelerates well.
